HOW TO READ YOUR LINES

At the minute you were born, every planet was somewhere in the sky. Seen from some places on Earth it was rising on the eastern horizon, from others it was setting, from others it stood overhead or lay directly underfoot. Astrocartography draws those places as four lines per planet:

- MC line (solid, straight): the planet overhead. Read as career, reputation and public direction.
- IC line (dashed, straight): the planet underfoot. Read as home, family and roots.
- AC line (solid, curved): the planet rising. Read as you: your manner, energy and how you feel in yourself.
- DC line (dashed, curved): the planet setting. Read as partners, close bonds and the people you meet.

The planet gives the flavor: Venus for love and ease, Jupiter for growth and luck, Saturn for effort and structure, and so on. Astrologers give the most weight to places within a few hundred kilometers of a line, strongest closest to it. Nobody's life is decided by a line: read this report as a way to think about places, alongside work, family, money and the practical facts of a move.

YOUR NEXT BIRTHDAY

YOUR 2027 SOLAR RETURN

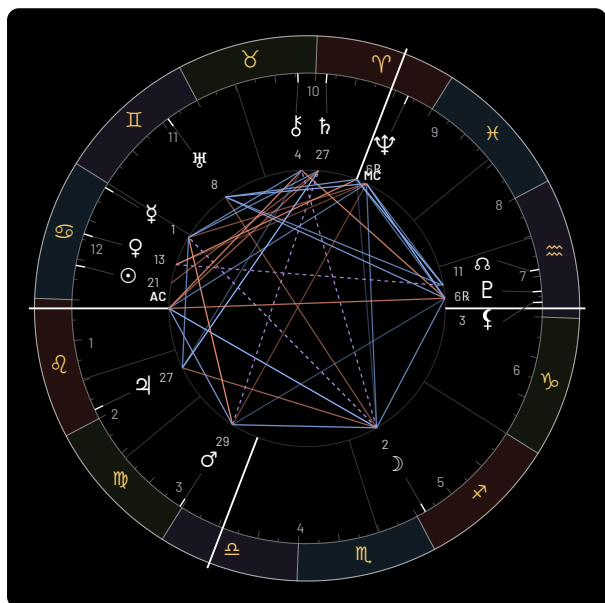

Once a year the Sun comes back to the degree it held at your birth, 21° Cancer.

Astrologers read the chart of that moment, the solar return, as the tone of the twelve months until your next birthday.

THE MOMENT OF YOUR SOLAR RETURN

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 2027 AT 07:04 GMT+2

In the time zone of your birth place.

WHAT STANDS OUT THIS YEAR

- Rising sign of the year: Leo (2° Leo). Read as the tone and style of the twelve months: creativity, warmth, pride, generosity.
- Sun in the 12th house: Solitude, the unconscious and retreat, read as the main focus of the year.
- Moon in Sagittarius, 5th house: Creativity, romance and play. Read as where you look for comfort and what the year feels like.
- Midheaven in Aries: the public direction of the year.
- Planets on an angle (within 5°, read as the strongest voices of the year):  Pluto 4.2° from the Descendant;  Neptune 4.4° from the Midheaven.

Drawn for your birth place. The chart changes with the place where you spend the birthday: the next pages rank every large city for it.

READINGS FOR THE YEAR

The birth chart reading of each planet's house in this return chart. Astrologers apply them to the twelve months from this birthday to the next.

Sun in your twelfth house

A twelfth house Sun shines behind a curtain. Tradition reads this as a reflective, imaginative and compassionate nature that may feel more at ease in quiet places than on centre stage. Solitude, creative or spiritual practice and behind-the-scenes work can be deeply fulfilling. You may need time to recognise your own light, and others often feel your support before they see your ambition.

Moon in your fifth house

A fifth house Moon needs play to feel well. Tradition reads this as an expressive heart that finds comfort in creativity, romance, games and the company of children or young people. You may be openly affectionate and moved by art and performance. When life gets heavy, doing something purely for enjoyment can restore you faster than any amount of reasoning.

Venus in your twelfth house

A twelfth house Venus loves quietly and with great compassion. Astrologers describe tender feelings that are not always expressed openly, an attraction to secret or private romance, and a deep appreciation for music, art or spiritual beauty. You may give generously without asking for much. Learning to receive love as easily as you offer it is the gentle lesson here.

Mars in your third house

Mars in the third house sharpens the tongue and speeds up the mind. Astrologers read a quick, forthright communicator who enjoys debate and may say exactly what they think. Lively exchanges with siblings or neighbours are possible. You may think best on the move. Choosing your battles in conversation helps your directness come across as honesty rather than attack.

Jupiter in your second house

With Jupiter in the second house, generosity and resourcefulness are linked. Tradition reads a hopeful attitude toward security and a belief that there is enough to go round, along with a talent for seeing value others miss. You may enjoy sharing freely. Growth comes from grounding that optimism in sensible choices and recognising the many forms of wealth beyond material things.

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAP

YOUR 10 BEST CITIES FOR THIS BIRTHDAY

The lines of your 2027 solar return moment. Where a planet's line runs, that planet sits on an angle of the return chart (rising, setting, overhead or underfoot), the placement astrologers read as one of the loudest of the year. Every city of over 250,000 people (2,454 of them) is scored for it: close to the lines of Jupiter and Venus, then the Sun and the Moon, and away from the lines of Saturn, Pluto and Mars. One city per area.

Astrologers who use solar returns read the chart for the place where you are at the moment of the return, so this is about where you spend the birthday itself, not where you live. It is one symbolic input among many: cost, safety, time and the people you love count as much.

YOUR 12 MONTHS

THE YEAR AT A GLANCE

Two things happen to your map every month. Moving planets reach planets of your birth chart: astrologers say that planet's lines come into focus that day. And the moving planets themselves fall on the angles of your birth chart somewhere on Earth: their transit lines, a method Jim Lewis called cyclocartography. Your next twelve months hold 35 exact passes (the Moon is left out: it passes each planet every month).

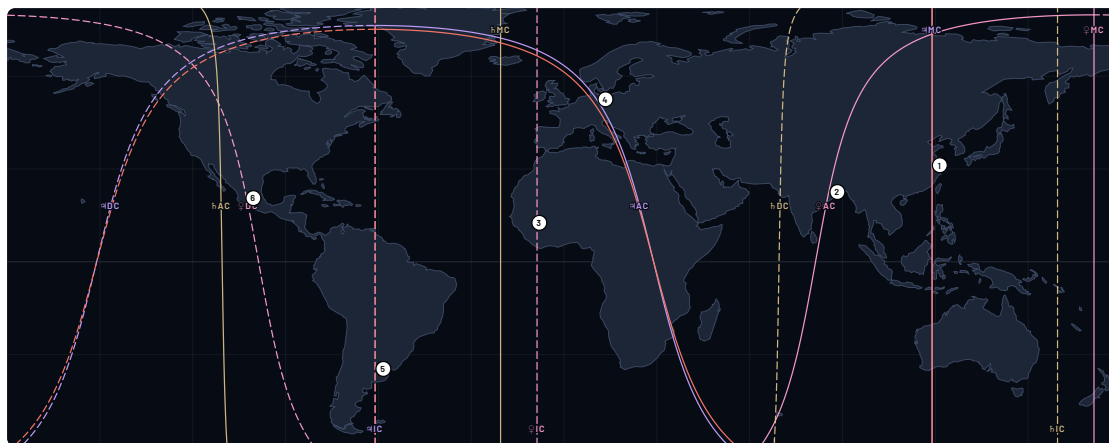

MONTH	EXACT PASSES	WHERE YOUR MAP LIGHTS UP

HOW TO READ THE MONTH PAGES

- Exact passes: the day a moving planet reaches one of your planets, with what the moving planet brings. That planet's lines on your birth map are in focus around the date.
- Where your map lights up: the biggest city within 300 km of each transit line of Jupiter and Venus in the middle of the month (the six largest are listed). Astrologers time trips and moves with these lines: Jupiter's move slowly and stay for months, Venus's move fast and shift across the month.
- Handle with care: the same for Saturn and Mars, read as effort and friction rather than ease. Not places to avoid, places where things may ask more of you.

HOW THIS REPORT WAS MADE

METHOD AND HONEST LIMITS

Your birth time was converted to Universal Time with the time zone rules of your birth place. The positions of the Sun, Moon and planets come from published astronomical theory (VSOP87 and Meeus), the same engine as the site, checked against NASA JPL Horizons to about a thousandth of a degree.

Solar return. The moment the Sun reaches the exact longitude it had at your birth, found to the minute, the same as on the site's solar return page. Its lines are drawn for that moment in the sky, with each planet's own latitude, at the true horizon without refraction.

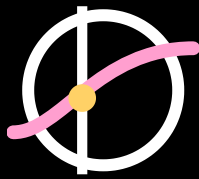

Ranking. Every city of over 250,000 people is scored by its distance to the return lines: full weight on a line, half at 300 km, nothing past 700 km; Jupiter and Venus count most, then the Sun and the Moon, and the nearest Saturn, Pluto or Mars line counts against. A small lift for bigger cities only orders close scores; your own cities are compared on the lines alone.

Months. Exact passes are the conjunctions of the moving Sun, Mercury, Venus, Mars and the outer planets with the planets of your birth chart. Transit lines put each moving planet on the angles of your birth chart (the Earth's turn at your birth), drawn for the middle of each month.

Birth time matters. The Earth turns 1 degree every 4 minutes, so a birth time 4 minutes off moves every line about 110 km at the equator. If your time is approximate, read the distances loosely.

What this can and cannot tell you. Astrocartography and solar returns are a symbolic tradition, not a science. No study shows that places or dates act on people through planetary lines. Nothing here predicts events or replaces professional, financial, legal or medical advice.

Texts. The readings are written by Astrology Lines from the astrological tradition; they are the same texts as on the site's pages, chosen and combined for your chart.
