HOW TO READ YOUR LINES

At the minute you were born, every planet was somewhere in the sky. Seen from some places on Earth it was rising on the eastern horizon, from others it was setting, from others it stood overhead or lay directly underfoot. Astrocartography draws those places as four lines per planet:

- MC line (solid, straight): the planet overhead. Read as career, reputation and public direction.
- IC line (dashed, straight): the planet underfoot. Read as home, family and roots.
- AC line (solid, curved): the planet rising. Read as you: your manner, energy and how you feel in yourself.
- DC line (dashed, curved): the planet setting. Read as partners, close bonds and the people you meet.

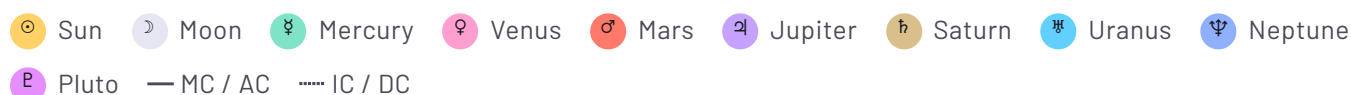

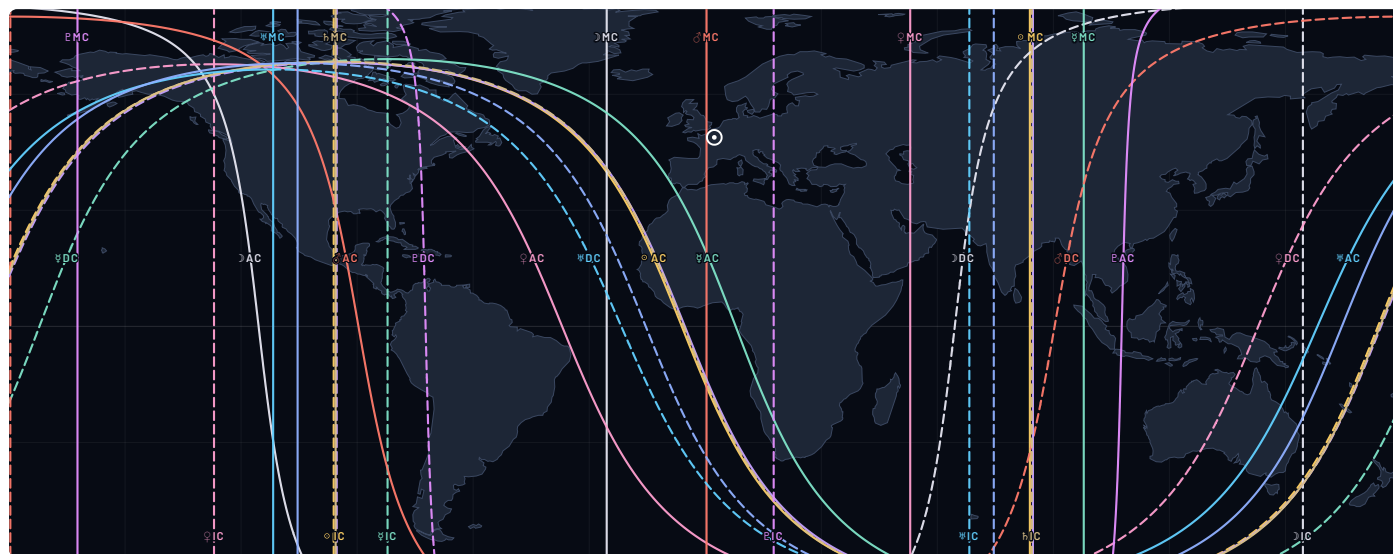

The planet gives the flavor: Venus for love and ease, Jupiter for growth and luck, Saturn for effort and structure, and so on. Astrologers give the most weight to places within a few hundred kilometers of a line, strongest closest to it. Nobody's life is decided by a line: read this report as a way to think about places, alongside work, family, money and the practical facts of a move.

YOUR SUN LINES

Your Sun is in Cancer. Astrologers describe the Sun in Cancer as a self rooted in belonging. You tend to measure a good life by the people around your table and the safety of your home base, whatever form it takes. Memory is strong here: places, smells and family stories shape you. Your care can be fierce when someone you love is threatened. The lesson of this placement is to treat your own needs as worth protecting too, and to let the shell open in new company.

Every Sun line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

SUN MC LINE overhead

Runs near Ürümqi, China (293 km)

Love Meeting people through work; a more visible relationship

Work Visible roles, leadership, recognition in your field

Home and daily life A place to recharge between public commitments

Watch out for Feeling exposed; work crowding out private life

Love. Relationships on this line are read through public life. You may meet people through work or a role you hold, and a relationship may be more visible to others than usual.

Work. This is the core of the line. Tradition associates it with visible roles: management, public speaking, a job with your name on the door, being recognized in your field. It is read as a place where ambition has a stage.

Daily life. Home on a Sun MC line is often described as the place you recharge between public commitments. Days tilt toward work, meetings and being out in the world.

Strengths

- Your aims are visible and easy to explain
- A stage for leadership and public roles
- Contact with people who hold authority
- A clear sense of direction

Challenges

- Feeling exposed or watched
- Work crowding out private life
- Tying your worth to a title
- Mistakes that are hard to hide

SUN IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Houston, United States (67 km)

Love	Building a shared home or a family of choice
Work	Work from home, family businesses, quiet foundations
Home and daily life	Home as an expression of you; long-term roots
Watch out for	Withdrawing from the world; old family patterns

Love. Love here is often described in terms of building something: a shared home, a household, a family of choice. The line favors depth and privacy over a busy social life.

Work. This is not a line of public visibility. Tradition associates it with work done from home, family businesses, long projects built quietly and roles behind the scenes. It can suit a phase of laying foundations rather than being noticed.

Daily life. Home is where this line lives. Astrologers describe the home itself becoming an expression of who you are: a place you shape, renovate or settle into for the long term. Family visits, reflection and slower evenings fit the picture.

Strengths

- A strong sense of home and belonging
- Room to reflect and build a private life
- A setting for family and long-term plans
- Confidence that does not need an audience

Challenges

- Lower visibility at work
- Family duties taking center stage
- Withdrawing from the wider world
- Old family patterns coming back up

SUN AC LINE rising

Runs near Monrovia, Liberia (228 km)

Love	Attractive as yourself; not the classic romance line
Work	Work under your own name: freelancing, a launch, a personal brand
Home and daily life	Active, outward days: early starts, new looks, a sport or a stage
Watch out for	Self-focus, pride and partners feeling overshadowed

Love. The Sun AC line is about you rather than partners, so it is not the classic romance line. What tradition links it with is being attractive as yourself: people notice your confidence, and you feel less need to play a role to be liked.

Work. Work tied to your own name sits well with this line in the tradition: freelancing, a personal brand, a launch, leading by example in person.

Daily life. Daily life on a Sun AC line is often described as active and outward. You may want to be out early, try new things, change your look or take up a sport or a stage.

Strengths

- A clearer sense of what you want
- Easy first impressions and being taken at face value
- A natural setting for fresh starts and personal projects
- Feeling ready to act rather than wait

Challenges

- Self-focus that leaves less room for others
- Pressure to "be yourself" on demand
- Pride that makes setbacks sting
- Partners or colleagues feeling overshadowed

SUN DC LINE setting

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	Partners who feel central to your life story
Work	Client work, consulting, co-founders; credit is shared
Home and daily life	Sociable days, a full calendar, living with someone
Watch out for	Handing your spotlight to a strong partner

Love. This is one of the lines often discussed for partnership, though in a different key from Venus. The Venus DC line is read as affection and ease. The Sun DC line is read as significance: relationships that feel central to your life story and partners who matter.

Work. Work where the relationship is the product sits well with this line in the tradition: consulting, coaching, agency work, client service, negotiating, or running something with a co-founder. Your reputation may grow through the people you are associated with.

Daily life. Daily life near a Sun DC line is often described as sociable. Invitations, shared meals, a full calendar and people dropping by fit the picture, and so does living with someone rather than alone.

Strengths

- Partnerships that feel meaningful
- Collaborators who sharpen your aims
- Learning about yourself through others
- A full, social daily life

Challenges

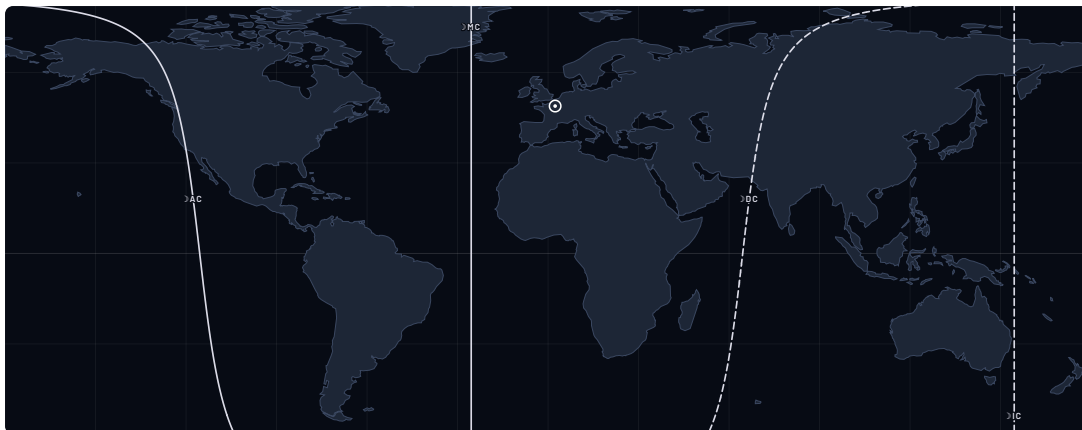

- Handing your spotlight to a partner
- Attracting people who want to be in charge
- Feeling less sure of yourself when alone
- Credit that is always shared

YOUR LINES, READ IN FULL

YOUR MOON LINES

Your Moon is in Aries. A Moon in Aries tends to feel things in sparks. Irritation, excitement or hurt can flare within seconds and burn out almost as fast, so you rarely hold a grudge for long. You may need to move when upset: a run, a cleared desk, a direct conversation. Independence is soothing, and being smothered is not. Astrologers see courage in this placement, along with a lesson about vulnerability: softer feelings like sadness can hide behind a quick flash of anger.

Every Moon line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

MOON MC LINE overhead

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	A more visible private life; a partner in your public role
Work	Serving people: hospitality, food, care, education, community
Home and daily life	Home and work blur; a parent in your public story
Watch out for	Reputation that rises and falls with the public mood

Love. Private life tends to be more visible here. A partner may become part of your public role, or people may know more about your relationships than you would choose.

Work. This is the core of the line. Tradition associates it with work that serves people directly: hospitality, food, care, community work, education, homes and family services, and any role with popular appeal.

Daily life. Home and work can blur on this line. A family business, working with families, or a public role that draws on your own home life all fit the tradition.

Strengths

- People respond warmly to your work
- Work with a caring purpose
- A feel for what the public needs
- Reputation built on trust

Challenges

- Reputation that rises and falls with moods
- Taking feedback personally
- Less privacy
- Career changes that come in phases

MOON IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Brisbane, Australia (148 km)

Love	Settling down and building a household
Work	Home-based work, family care, quiet projects
Home and daily life	Nesting, memory and family meals; the strongest home line
Watch out for	Hard to leave; comfort crowding out new plans

Love. Love on this line is described as settling down: building a household, family-centered plans, a relationship rooted in daily life at home.

Work. This is a private line, not a public one. Tradition associates it with work from home, a home-based business, caring for family, and quiet projects without much of a spotlight.

Daily life. This is where the line lives. Cooking, gardening, family meals, old photos and a home full of meaning fit the picture. You may want to buy furniture to keep, not to replace.

Strengths

- A deep sense of belonging
- A home that feels emotionally safe
- Closeness with family
- Comfort and rest

Challenges

- Hard to leave once settled
- Family pressure and old patterns
- Comfort crowding out new plans
- Living in memory more than the present

MOON AC LINE rising

Runs near Los Angeles, United States (157 km)

Love Warm, quick bonds; people open up to you

Work Empathy-led roles: hospitality, food, care, customer-facing

Home and daily life Comfort and routines; any room soon feels like yours

Watch out for Changeable moods; absorbing other people's feelings

Love. Warmth is the keynote. People tend to open up to you here, and bonds can form fast. Tradition links the line with attracting people who want care, and with your own wish to be looked after.

Work. Work where empathy shows sits well with this line in the tradition: hospitality, food, caring roles, teaching young children, anything customer-facing. You are read as the approachable one.

Daily life. Daily life is often described as led by comfort: favorite foods, familiar routines, a cozy room, people around you. You may want to make wherever you stay feel like yours within a day.

Strengths

- Warmth and approachability
- Trusting your instincts
- Quick, genuine connections
- A strong feel for places and people

Challenges

- Moods that swing with surroundings
- Absorbing other people's feelings
- Attachments that form too fast
- Being easy to read when you would rather not be

MOON DC LINE setting

Runs near Karachi, Pakistan (59 km)

Love Partners who feel like family; belonging over sparkle

Work One-to-one trust: client care, a family-like business partner

Home and daily life A shared, busy home with hosting and meals

Watch out for Caretaking that becomes one-sided; borrowed moods

Love. This line is often described as domestic and tender: meeting someone who feels familiar from the start, moving in, cooking together, a relationship that feels like family. Astrologers contrast it with the Venus DC line, read as delight and charm; the Moon DC is read as belonging.

Work. In the tradition, this line suits work built on one-to-one trust: client care, hospitality partnerships, a business partner who feels like family, roles where people rely on you personally.

Daily life. Daily life here is read as shared: flatmates or a partner, hosting, meals with others, family dropping by. A home full of people fits the picture better than a quiet one.

Strengths

- Close, caring relationships
- Feeling supported by others
- Easy emotional honesty with a partner
- A warm, shared home

Challenges

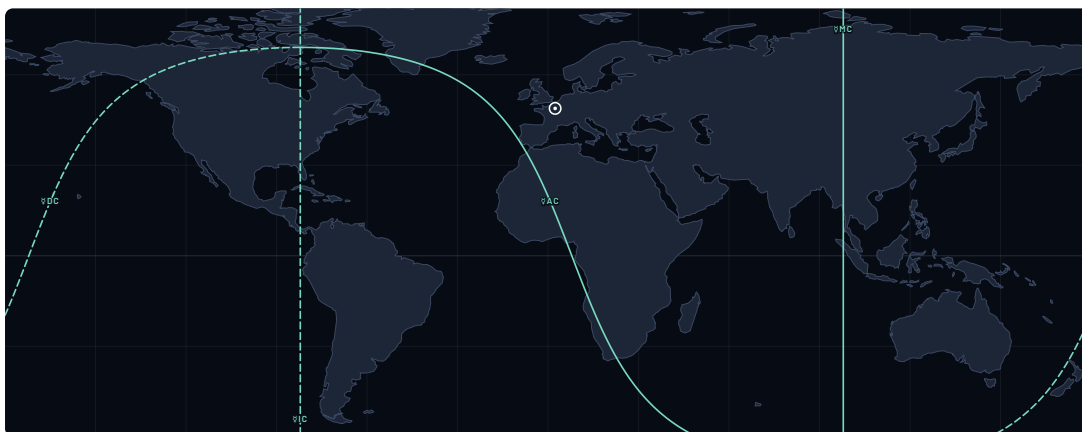

- Caretaking that becomes one-sided
- Leaning on others too much
- Partners' moods becoming yours
- Little time for yourself

♿ YOUR MERCURY LINES

Your Mercury is in Leo. With Mercury in Leo, you tend to speak with warmth and flair. Stories come alive when you tell them, and you may naturally hold the attention of a room. Astrologers associate this placement with confident opinions, creative writing and a talent for teaching through enthusiasm. You think in big, colorful strokes. Your ideas can become tied to your pride, so disagreement may sting. Remembering that a challenged idea is not a challenged self keeps your mind open.

Every Mercury line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

♿ MERCURY MC LINE overhead

Runs near Bangkok, Thailand (284 km)

Love	Partners met through work, networks and your field
Work	Writing, teaching, media, translation, public speaking
Home and daily life	A home office that rarely closes; calls and books
Watch out for	Scattered projects; public disagreement with your views

Love. Relationships on this line often grow out of work: networks, events, a shared field. A partner who shares your interests and can talk shop fits the picture.

Work. This is the heart of the line. Tradition associates it with writing, journalism, publishing, teaching, media, marketing, translation, technology and intermediary roles. Public speaking fits too.

Daily life. Home is often described as a hub: a desk, a home office, books, calls and a laptop that rarely closes. Work and conversation flow in and out.

Strengths

- A reputation for clear thinking
- Natural setting for writing and teaching
- Wide professional networks
- Ideas that find an audience

Challenges

- A career scattered over many projects
- Public disagreement with your views
- Pressure to always respond
- Work talk crowding out rest

 MERCURY IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Toronto, Canada (219 km)

Love Talking things through at the kitchen table

Work Remote work, research, tutoring, family history

Home and daily life A busy home of books, papers and visitors

Watch out for Overthinking the past; work and home blurring

Love. Love here is described as domestic conversation: talking things through at the kitchen table, a partner who is also your housemate and sounding board.

Work. This is a private line, so tradition links it with work from home rather than public roles: remote work, research, tutoring from home, writing a memoir or a family history.

Daily life. The home is busy in this reading: books, papers, conversations, visitors and plans. Some astrologers add a tendency to rearrange or move home more often, in keeping with Mercury's changeable nature.

Strengths

- A good place to study or work from home
- Understanding your family's story
- Lively talk with the people you live with
- Clear thinking in private

Challenges

- A noisy, crowded household
- Overthinking the past
- Little separation between work and home
- Family chatter turning into gossip

 MERCURY AC LINE rising

Runs near Lagos, Nigeria (206 km)

Love Starts with conversation: banter, messages, a shared class

Work Quick-minded roles: sales, writing, tutoring; good for study

Home and daily life Busy days: errands, cafes, messages, new local slang

Watch out for Restlessness, scattered focus, talking instead of feeling

Love. Love on this line tends to start with conversation: banter, messages, a class you both take, a debate that runs past midnight. Tradition says you are drawn to clever people and come across as witty yourself.

Work. Work where a quick mind and a quick tongue help sits well here in the tradition: sales, writing, social media, interpreting, tutoring, support roles, interviews. It is often named as a good place to study or retrain.

Daily life. Daily life is described as busy: errands, cafes, walks around the neighborhood, a phone full of messages, a stack of books. You may learn the local streets and the local slang fast.

Strengths

- Curiosity and quick learning
- Easy conversation with strangers
- A good setting for study and languages
- A light, youthful outlook

Challenges

- Restlessness and scattered focus
- Talking instead of feeling
- Too many projects at once
- Overthinking small decisions

MERCURY DC LINE setting

Runs near Auckland, New Zealand (284 km)

Love	Mental chemistry; friendship before romance
Work	Work in pairs: negotiating, co-writing, consulting, translating
Home and daily life	Talkative housemates, neighbors and dinner debates
Watch out for	Debate turning into arguing; talk replacing closeness

Love. Mental chemistry is the keynote. Long conversations, friendship before romance, a partner who challenges your opinions and makes you laugh. Tradition contrasts this with the Venus DC line, read as affection and ease: here the bond lives in the talking.

Work. This line is read as strong for work done in pairs: negotiating, interviewing, co-writing, consulting, translating, agent and broker roles, client calls. A business partner you can think out loud with fits the picture.

Daily life. Daily life is described as talkative: housemates, neighbors who stop for a chat, a busy group chat, dinners that turn into debates. You are rarely short of someone to talk to.

Strengths

- Stimulating partners and friends
- Easy collaboration and brainstorming
- Clear agreements when you make the effort
- Learning through other people's views

Challenges

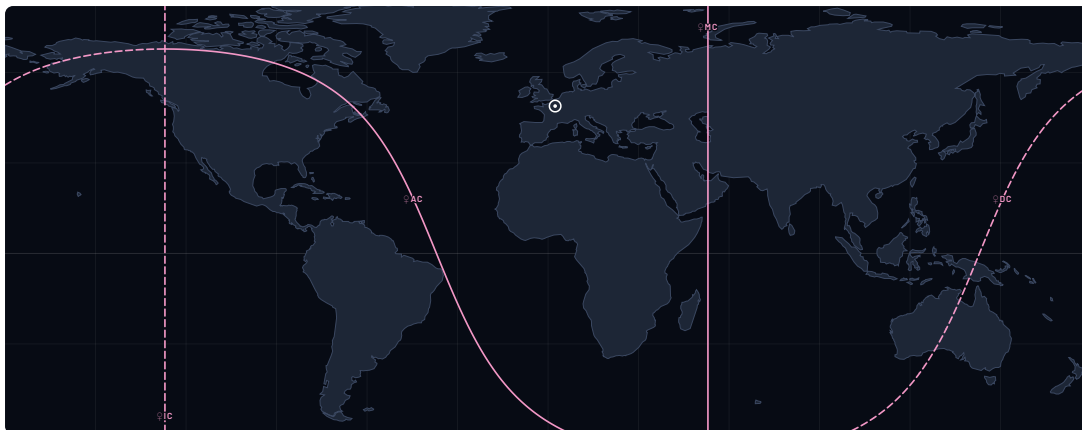

- Debate that turns into arguing
- Overanalyzing relationships
- People who talk more than they commit
- Small misunderstandings

YOUR VENUS LINES

Your Venus is in Gemini. With Venus in Gemini, attraction starts in the mind. You may fall for a voice, a clever message or a conversation that runs past midnight. Astrologers associate this placement with flirtatious charm, curiosity about people and a love of variety in art, books and friends. You value wit and freedom. Commitment can feel limiting until you find someone who keeps surprising you. Learning to show the feelings behind your playful words deepens your bonds.

Every Venus line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

♀ VENUS MC LINE overhead

Runs near Tehran, Iran (142 km)

Love	Meeting partners through work; an admired couple
Work	Art, design, beauty, hospitality, PR, diplomacy
Home and daily life	Outward-facing evenings; home takes second place
Watch out for	Popularity mistaken for progress; image over substance

Love. The MC is not the love angle, but public life and private life can mix here. Tradition mentions meeting partners through work, being seen as an attractive couple, or a partner who is well regarded. The risk is treating a relationship as part of your image.

Work. This is the core of the line. Astrologers link it with art, design, fashion, beauty, music, hospitality, events, public relations, diplomacy and any role where people skills matter. It is also read as a place where colleagues and bosses tend to be friendly, and where networking feels natural.

Daily life. With Venus overhead, life is read as outward facing: evenings out, work events, being seen. Home can take second place. If home is what you want to emphasize, the Venus IC line on the opposite side of the world is the domestic counterpart.

Strengths

- A likable, well-received reputation
- Recognition for taste, art or style
- Friendly workplaces and easy networking
- Diplomacy in public roles

Challenges

- Popularity mistaken for progress
- Avoiding unpopular decisions
- Image over substance
- A comfortable career that stops stretching you

♀ VENUS IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Vancouver, Canada (282 km)

Love	Living together and building a home as a couple
Work	Work from home, interiors, food, family businesses
Home and daily life	Hosting, cooking, gardening, slow weekends
Watch out for	Comfort turning into inertia; avoiding family issues

Love. Love here is domestic: living together, building a home as a couple, family warmth, a partner who wants a settled life. It is less about meeting someone new, which the Venus DC line speaks to, and more about how love feels at home.

Work. The IC sits opposite the career angle, so work is not the theme. Tradition links the line with work from home, family businesses, interiors, food and hospitality, or simply a job that lets you enjoy home life. Ambition may feel lower here, which suits some phases of life better than others.

Daily life. This is the heart of the line. Daily life is read as gentle and home centered: hosting friends, making the place beautiful, slow weekends, cooking, gardening. Astrologers often describe it as a line where you want to settle rather than keep moving.

Strengths

- A home that feels pleasant and welcoming
- Softer family relationships
- Pleasure in decorating, cooking and hosting
- A sense of belonging

Challenges

- Comfort turning into inertia
- Avoiding the outside world
- Smoothing over family issues instead of facing them
- Little push for career growth

♀ VENUS AC LINE rising

Runs near Recife, Brazil (122 km)

Love	Being noticed and liked; easy introductions
Work	Taste and social ease: fashion, beauty, hospitality, sales
Home and daily life	Sociable, sensual days: cafes, markets, good meals
Watch out for	Indulgence, people-pleasing, appearances first

Love. This is a strong line for being noticed, but it is a line about you, not about a partner. You are read as more approachable here, so introductions come easily and first impressions tend to land well. Whether that grows into a lasting bond is a separate question, one the Venus DC line speaks to more directly.

Work. The AC is not the career angle, but how you present yourself colors every interview and client meeting. A Venus AC place is often linked with work that uses taste or social ease: fashion, beauty, hospitality, sales, the arts, anything done face to face. For the line read directly as career, see the Venus MC line.

Daily life. Daily life on this line is read as sociable and sensual: cafes, markets, galleries, good meals and time spent on looking after yourself. For a line about the home itself, the Venus IC line is the domestic one.

Strengths

- Feeling attractive and at ease
- Easy first impressions and social confidence
- Renewed interest in art, style and pleasure
- A gentle setting to rebuild self-esteem

Challenges

- Indulgence and too many treats
- Putting appearances first
- People-pleasing and avoiding friction
- Low motivation for hard or dull work

VENUS DC LINE setting

Runs near Jayapura, Indonesia (128 km)

Love	The classic romance line: affectionate, balanced bonds
Work	Friendly clients, collaborators and smooth negotiations
Home and daily life	A busy social life: invitations, shared meals, friends
Watch out for	Charm over substance; keeping the peace at your cost

Love. This is why most people search for the line. Astrologers describe it as a place where you notice potential partners more and they notice you, where dates feel easy and existing relationships soften. Couples sometimes choose a Venus DC place for a trip together for exactly that reason.

Work. Here Venus works through collaboration. The line is often linked with good working partnerships, helpful clients, smooth negotiations and roles where you represent or advise someone: consulting, client work, agency work, mediation, design for others.

Daily life. Daily life on a Venus DC line tends to be read as busy with people: invitations, shared meals, friends who drop by, plans built around a partner. It suits people who like company. Those who need time alone may find the social pull tiring and want to protect their quiet hours.

Strengths

- Easy meetings and warm one-to-one bonds
- Affection and fairness in partnerships
- Friendly clients, collaborators and agreements
- A rich social life

Challenges

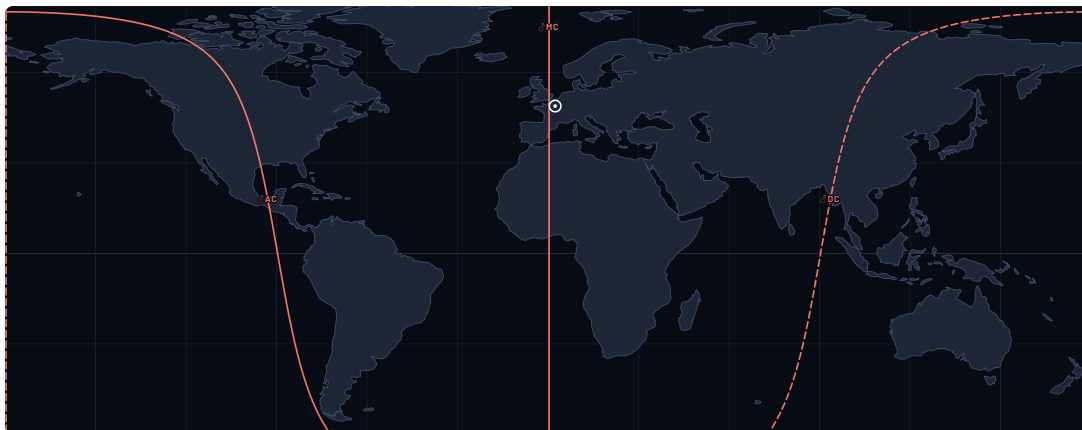

- Choosing charm over substance
- Keeping the peace at your own expense
- Leaning on others for your happiness
- Too many options, hard to commit

YOUR MARS LINES

Your Mars is in Taurus. With Mars in Taurus, you work steadily rather than in bursts. Traditional astrology lists this as Mars in detriment, read today as drive that is slow to start but almost impossible to stop. Astrologers link this placement with stamina, practical goals and great persistence. You prefer building something tangible to chasing quick wins. When provoked, you may resist quietly and then erupt. Learning to adapt your methods, rather than digging in, keeps your strength flexible.

Every Mars line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

♂ MARS MC LINE overhead

Runs near London, United Kingdom (32 km)

Love	Ambition can crowd a partner; shared projects help
Work	Leadership, starting a business, competitive fields
Home and daily life	Long days; home as a base between pushes
Watch out for	Clashes with authority; a pace you cannot keep up

Love. The MC is not the love angle. On this line, tradition says work and ambition can crowd relationships, and a partner may feel second to your goals. Couples who share a project or a drive are said to do better here than couples who want a quiet life.

Work. This is the core of the line. Astrologers link it with leadership roles, starting a business, competitive fields such as sport, sales and law enforcement, technical or physical work, and any job where you have to fight for a result. Recognition is read as earned through effort and nerve.

Daily life. Life on a Mars MC line is read as outward and busy: long days, early mornings, a home that serves as a base between pushes. If home matters most to you right now, the Mars IC line or a gentler IC line may fit better.

Strengths

- Ambition and initiative
- Courage to lead and compete
- A reputation for getting things done
- Energy for a career push

Challenges

- Clashes with bosses and rivals
- Being seen as aggressive
- A rushed, urgent pace
- Work crowding out relationships

♂ MARS IC LINE underfoot

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	Domestic passion, plus disputes over chores and space
Work	Home-based work, trades, building, property care
Home and daily life	Renovations, repairs and always a project on the go
Watch out for	Arguments at home; difficulty relaxing

Love. Love here is read through shared living: domestic passion, and also disputes over chores, space and decisions about the home. Couples who build something together, such as a renovation or a household with clear roles, are said to use the line best.

Work. The IC sits opposite the career angle, so public ambition is not the focus. Tradition links the line with work from home, hands-on trades, building, property care or a family business. Your drive may show more in private goals than in your job title.

Daily life. This is the core of the line. Astrologers mention renovations, repairs, moving furniture, starting a garden from scratch, and a home that always has a project on the go. The urge to protect your space and the people in it is read as strong.

Strengths

- Energy for home projects
- Clearing old family tensions
- Protecting your space and people
- Building a base through effort

Challenges

- Arguments at home
- Difficulty relaxing
- Restlessness about where you live
- Old family friction stirred up

MARS AC LINE rising

Runs near Houston, United States (4 km)

Love Direct, quick, physical attraction; you make the first move

Work Starting things: pitching, self-employment, sport, sales

Home and daily life Busy, physical days: early starts, training, plans

Watch out for A quick temper, impatience, coming across as pushy

Love. On a Mars AC line you are read as more direct about what you want, and more noticeable for it. Attraction tends to be quick and physical, and you may be the one who makes the first move.

Work. The AC is not the career angle, but initiative shows. Tradition links this line with starting things: pitching an idea, working for yourself, sales, sport, outdoor or hands-on work, any role that rewards decisiveness. People may see you as a self-starter.

Daily life. Daily life here is read as busy and physical: early starts, training, walking everywhere, a calendar full of plans. Sitting still may feel harder than usual. Many astrologers suggest giving the energy an outlet, such as sport or a demanding project, so it does not turn into restlessness or short tempers.

Strengths

- Courage and decisiveness
- Energy for sport, challenges and new projects
- Saying what you mean
- Breaking out of inertia

Challenges

- A quick temper
- Impatience and rushing
- Coming across as pushy
- Picking fights you do not need

MARS DC LINE setting

Runs near Yangon, Myanmar (292 km)

Love Sparks, chemistry and fast-moving relationships

Work Tough negotiations, strong partners, open competition

Home and daily life Strong personalities at home; debates over dinner

Watch out for Power struggles; mistaking heat for compatibility

Love. Attraction here is read as strong and physical. Astrologers describe sparks, chemistry, partners with drive, and a relationship that moves fast. Arguments may come just as quickly, and so may making up.

Work. At work the line covers partners, clients and competitors. Tradition links it with tough negotiations, demanding clients, strong business partners and competitive markets. That can sharpen you, or wear you down.

Daily life. Daily life on a Mars DC line is read as lively with people: strong personalities around you, debates over dinner, neighbors or housemates with opinions. If you share a home, agreeing on how you handle disagreement is the practical advice astrologers usually give.

Strengths

- Passion and strong attraction
- Partners and allies with drive
- Competitors who sharpen your skills
- Learning to face conflict openly

Challenges

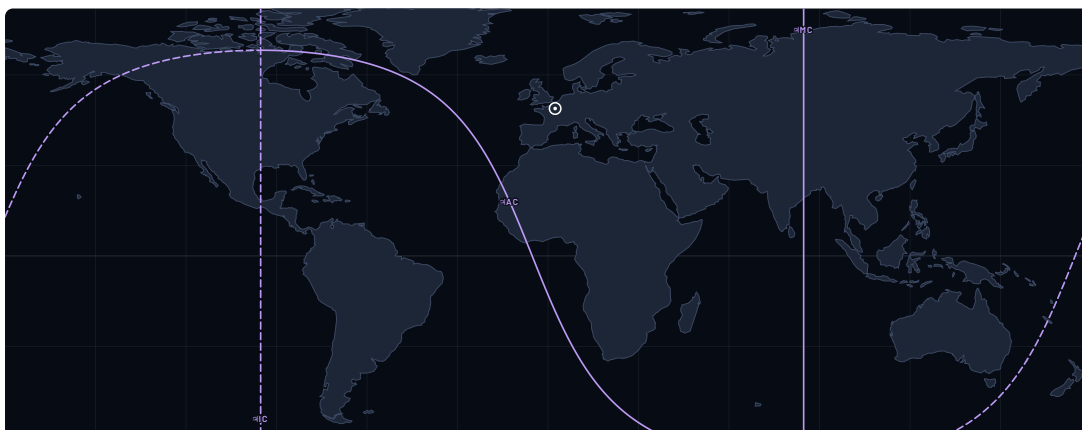

- Arguments and power struggles
- Attracting combative people
- Mistaking heat for compatibility
- Little peace in close bonds

2 YOUR JUPITER LINES

Your Jupiter is in Cancer. Jupiter is exalted in Cancer in traditional astrology, a placement associated with warm generosity and a big, protective heart. You may find meaning through family, community, home and caring for others. Astrologers link it with emotional wisdom and a gift for making people feel they belong. Your faith grows from intimate experience rather than abstract theory. The risk is overprotecting or clinging to the past. Extending your care to yourself, too, keeps this grace in balance.

Every Jupiter line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

☿ JUPITER MC LINE overhead

Runs near Ürümqi, China (230 km)

Love	Partners met through work or study; support for your aims
Work	Teaching, publishing, consulting, international work
Home and daily life	An outward, busy public calendar; home second
Watch out for	Overpromising, taking on too much, complacency

Love. The MC is not the love angle, but public and private can mix. Tradition mentions meeting partners through work or study, a partner who supports your ambitions, or one who is respected in their own field. The risk is a career that grows so large it leaves little room for anyone else.

Work. Astrologers link this line with teaching, higher education, publishing, travel, consulting, international work, and roles that involve advising or guiding others. It is also read as good for being given more responsibility and more visibility.

Daily life. With Jupiter overhead, life is read as outward: events, travel for work, a busy public calendar. Home may take second place. If home is the priority, the Jupiter IC line on the far side of the world is the domestic counterpart.

Strengths

- Opportunity and recognition
- Mentors and supportive authority figures
- A reputation that reaches further
- Confidence in public roles

Challenges

- Overpromising
- Taking on too much
- Complacency
- Work crowding out private life

☿ JUPITER IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Houston, United States (9 km)

Love	Building a household; shared values or faith
Work	Working from home, family business, teaching from home
Home and daily life	A roomy home, a full table, guests who stay longer
Watch out for	A household that overflows; too little privacy

Love. Love here is read through home and family: a partner who wants to build a household, merging families, a relationship rooted in shared values or faith. It is less about meeting someone new, which the Jupiter DC line speaks to, and more about growing a life together.

Work. The IC sits opposite the career angle, so public ambition is not the theme. Tradition links the line with working from home, family businesses, hospitality and teaching from home. Your growth may show more in your private life than in your job title.

Daily life. This is the core of the line. Astrologers mention a roomy house or garden, a full table, guests who stay longer than planned, extended family nearby, and a household where learning is part of daily life. Many describe it as a line where you feel you belong.

Strengths

- A generous, welcoming home
- Supportive family ties
- Room for study and inner growth
- A sense of belonging

Challenges

- A household that overflows
- Too little privacy
- Taking on more home than you need
- Comfort that slows outside ambition

JUPITER AC LINE rising

Runs near Bamako, Mali (245 km)

Love Warm, generous and easy to like; adventurous dating

Work Teaching, coaching, travel, international roles

Home and daily life Full, outgoing days: classes, trips, new friends

Watch out for Overconfidence, overpromising, doing too much

Love. On this line you are read as warm, generous and easy to like, which helps when meeting people. Dating may feel adventurous, with partners from other cultures or with very different lives.

Work. The AC is not the career angle, but confidence shows in interviews, pitches and first meetings. Tradition links this line with teaching, coaching, publishing, travel, outdoor work and international roles, any work where enthusiasm is part of the job.

Daily life. Daily life on a Jupiter AC line is read as full and outgoing: big plans, long conversations, classes, trips, new friends. You may want more of everything, from food to experiences, so pacing yourself is the usual advice.

Strengths

- Optimism and confidence
- Curiosity about people and cultures
- A strong appetite for learning
- Saying yes to new experiences

Challenges

- Overconfidence and overpromising
- Doing too much at once
- Restlessness
- Excess in everyday habits

JUPITER DC LINE setting

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love Generous, open-minded partners; bonds across cultures

Work Mentors, helpful clients, international collaborations

Home and daily life An open door: friends from many places, long dinners

Watch out for Idealizing others; overpromising in agreements

Love. Astrologers describe generous, open-minded partners, relationships that feel like an adventure, and bonds across cultures, languages or faiths. Existing relationships are read as having room to grow, with shared plans and a sense of optimism.

Work. At work the line covers partners, clients, agents and teachers. Tradition links it with helpful collaborations, generous clients, international contacts and mentors who vouch for you. Teaching, consulting, publishing and cross-border work are often mentioned.

Daily life. Daily life here is read as social and open: friends from many places, dinners that run long, an open-door attitude to guests. People who enjoy company tend to like this. People who need quiet may want to guard it.

Strengths

- Generous partners and friends
- Mentors and helpful allies
- Bonds across cultures
- Collaborations that grow

Challenges

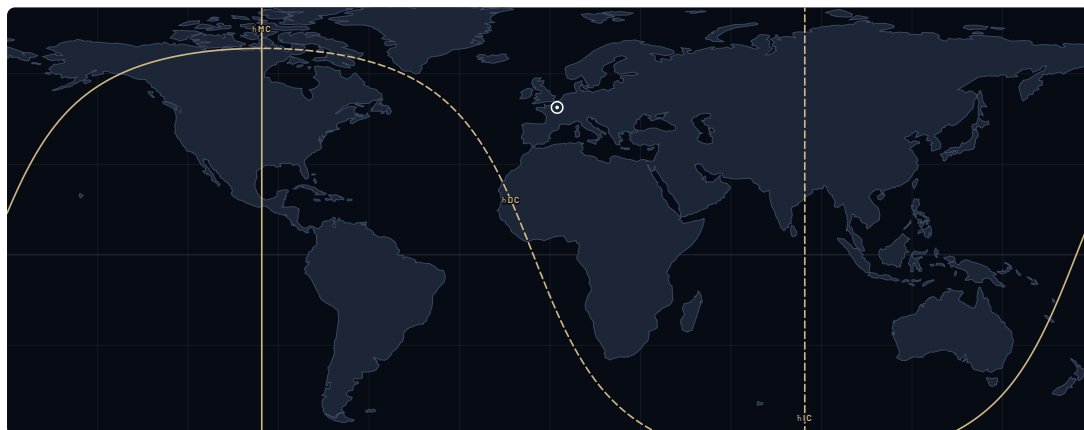

- Idealizing others
- Relying on a partner for meaning
- Overpromising in agreements
- A social life that leaves no room for you

YOUR SATURN LINES

Your Saturn is in Capricorn. Saturn rules Capricorn, so here the planet of structure works in its home sign. Astrologers associate this placement with ambition, discipline, long-term planning and a strong sense of responsibility. You may be a natural organizer and leader, respected for reliability. Achievements often come through patient, consistent effort over years. The risk is becoming too serious, controlling or work-focused. Allowing warmth, humor and rest into your life makes your accomplishments more fulfilling.

Every Saturn line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

SATURN MC LINE overhead

Runs near Houston, United States (19 km)

Love	Partners who respect ambition; work can crowd intimacy
Work	Management, public service, engineering, academia, trades
Home and daily life	Days shaped by work and a sense of being on duty
Watch out for	Slow recognition, strict bosses, overwork

Love. The MC is about public life, so love is touched indirectly. Career may take more of your time and energy here, and astrologers describe partners who respect ambition or share a sense of duty. A relationship can also become publicly committed in this setting, recognized by family or community.

Work. This is the core of the line. Astrologers associate it with management, public service, engineering, architecture, academia, skilled trades and any field with clear standards and long ladders. The picture is of being given responsibility, sometimes before you feel ready, and growing into it.

Daily life. Daily life is pictured as shaped by work: schedules, commitments, a sense of being on duty. Some people thrive on that structure. Others find home becomes a place to recover rather than enjoy, and need to plan their downtime deliberately.

Strengths

- A reputation built on real work
- Trust from institutions and seniors
- Persistence through long projects
- Clear goals and standards
- Authority that grows with time

Challenges

- Slow recognition
- Strict or critical superiors
- Overwork and pressure
- Fear of making mistakes in public
- Less room for play

SATURN IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Ürümqi, China (253 km)

Love	Moving in, meeting families, shared responsibility
Work	Work from home, family business, restoration, history
Home and daily life	Old houses, repairs, simple rooms, care for relatives
Watch out for	Heavy family duties; feeling rooted but stuck

Love. Here love is tied to the household. Moving in together, making a home, meeting each other's families and sharing responsibility are the themes astrologers mention. Partnerships are pictured as steady and inward looking rather than social.

Work. With private life in focus, public ambition may take a back seat, or work may move closer to home. Astrologers associate this line with working from home, family businesses, restoring old buildings, history, archives and research into the past.

Daily life. This is the core of the line. Old houses, repairs, simple rooms, a slower private life and care for relatives are all part of the picture. Many people describe putting down roots here deliberately, choosing a few lasting things over many passing ones.

Strengths

- A stable base built to last
- Clarity about family roles
- Healthy work on inherited patterns
- Patience with long home projects
- A strong sense of privacy

Challenges

- Family duties that feel heavy
- A home that feels bare at first
- Emotional reserve
- Feeling unseen in public life
- Difficulty letting go of the past

SATURN AC LINE rising

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	Slower to flirt, more selective; reliability over sparkle
Work	Competence and patience: training, management, crafts, research
Home and daily life	Simpler, structured days: early starts, habits that stick
Watch out for	Self-criticism, a heavy mood, seeming distant

Love. The AC line is about you rather than your partners, but how you come across shapes who approaches. Near Saturn rising you may seem less available at first: slower to flirt, more selective. The tradition says you tend to attract people who value reliability over sparkle.

Work. This is where the Saturn AC line is most often read in a good light. Looking competent and steady counts in training, management, crafts, research and any role where trust is earned over time. Astrologers associate the line with the patience to learn a skill properly or see a long project through.

Daily life. Daily life near Saturn rising is pictured as simpler and more structured: early starts, fewer distractions, habits that stick. Some find that calming after a scattered period; others find it lonely.

Strengths

- Focus and self-discipline
- Being taken seriously from the first meeting
- Patience for long goals
- Clearer personal boundaries
- A calm, steady presence

Challenges

- Self-criticism or a heavy mood
- Seeming distant to new people
- Less play and spontaneity
- A slow start socially
- Feeling you must prove yourself

SATURN DC LINE setting

Runs near Bamako, Mali (267 km)

Love	Slow-burning, committed bonds; serious partners
Work	Contracts, consulting, mentors; people hold you to your word
Home and daily life	Structured shared life; fewer but deeper friendships
Watch out for	Duty crowding out affection; controlling partners

Love. The Descendant is the classic relationship angle, so this is the center of the line. Astrologers describe slow-burning, committed bonds rather than whirlwind romance. A relationship begun here may feel like a decision from the start, with a clear sense of future and duty.

Work. Business partners, contracts, clients and mentors all belong to the DC side of the chart. Here the line is read in a constructive light: formal collaborations, consulting, negotiation and any work where reliability counts. People tend to hold you to your word, and you can hold them to theirs.

Daily life. Shared life is pictured as structured: chores divided, plans made ahead, money talked about openly. Friendships may be fewer but deeper, and a social circle can take a while to build. For people who value loyalty over a busy calendar, this suits well.

Strengths

- Loyal, durable bonds
- Clear expectations on both sides
- Partners who keep their word
- Maturity in conflict
- Strong working partnerships

Challenges

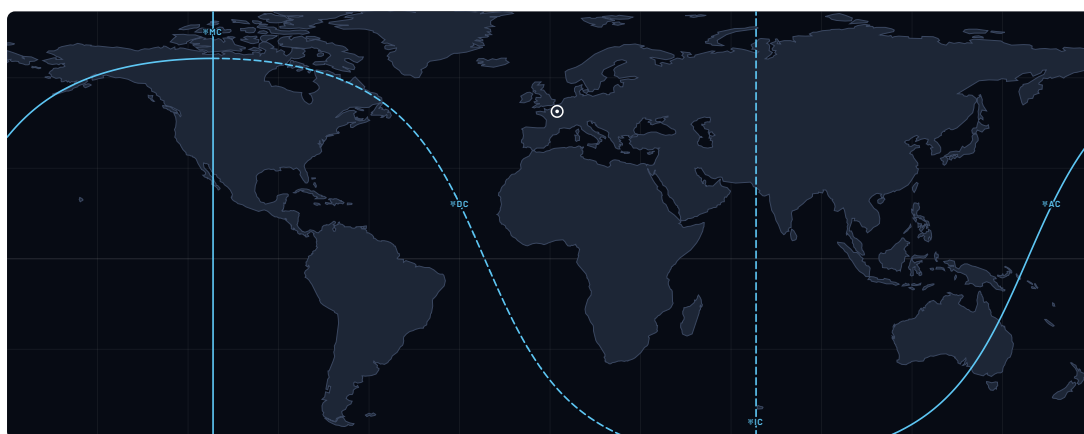

- Relationships that feel heavy
- A slow social start
- Pull toward distant or controlling people
- Feeling tested by others
- Less lightness and play

YOUR URANUS LINES

Your Uranus is in Capricorn. Born in roughly 1988 to 1996, the Uranus in Capricorn generation is linked by astrologers with changes to institutions, careers and structures of authority. Capricorn builds and Uranus disrupts, so the combination is often read as reforming systems from within rather than abandoning them. On a personal level it can point to an inventive approach to work and ambition. The Uranus house in your chart shows where you are most likely to rewrite the rules.

Every Uranus line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

URANUS MC LINE overhead

Runs near Phoenix, United States (34 km)

Love Irregular schedules; partners who back your independence

Work Tech, science, broadcasting, design, causes, new ventures

Home and daily life Home as a launch pad between projects

Watch out for Friction with hierarchy; plans that change suddenly

Love. The MC touches love indirectly, through the shape of your public life. Irregular schedules, travel for work or a career change can all affect a relationship near this line. Astrologers describe partners who support your independence as the best fit.

Work. This is the core. Astrologers associate the Uranus MC line with technology, science, broadcasting, design, activism, remote work and new ventures. Openings may come suddenly, and so may changes of plan.

Daily life. With public life so lively, home often becomes a launch pad: somewhere to recharge between projects. Daily routines may follow work rather than the clock. Some people love that freedom; others need a fixed day off to stay grounded.

Strengths

- Freedom to change direction
- A reputation for original ideas
- Fit with tech, science and creative work
- Work linked to causes you care about
- Openings that arrive unexpectedly

Challenges

- An irregular career path
- Friction with hierarchy
- Plans that change suddenly
- Restlessness in steady roles
- Work spilling into private time

URANUS IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Karachi, Pakistan (129 km)

Love Unconventional living: separate homes, long distance

Work Remote work and careers shaped by moves

Home and daily life Moving more often, renting, unusual or modern homes

Watch out for Rootlessness; a partner who wants different things

Love. Here love meets living arrangements. Separate homes, long-distance phases, shared houses or a partner who travels are all part of the picture astrologers paint. Domestic life with a partner tends to be described as unconventional.

Work. With home at the center, work may run from it. Astrologers associate the line with remote work, tech projects at the kitchen table and careers shaped by moves. Public ambition is not the focus of this line, but a flexible base can support it.

Daily life. This is the core. Moving more often than planned, renting rather than buying, modern or unusual homes, smart gadgets and surprises in family life all belong here. Some people describe finally feeling free of old family expectations.

Strengths

- Freedom from old family patterns
- A home that fits who you are
- Openness to new ways of living
- Easy with moving and change
- Inventive use of space

Challenges

- Difficulty settling down
- Surprises in family life
- A sense of rootlessness
- Different needs from a partner
- Home routines that keep shifting

URANUS AC LINE rising

Runs near Adelaide, Australia (153 km)

Love Sudden attractions, often outside your usual type

Work Freelancing, new ventures, technology, design, activism

Home and daily life Irregular days: changing schedules, new hobbies

Watch out for Restlessness; projects started and dropped

Love. How you come across shapes who is drawn to you, and near Uranus rising that tends to be people who like the unconventional. Attractions are described as sudden and surprising, often with someone outside your usual type.

Work. Astrologers associate this line with freelancing, new ventures, technology, science, design, activism and side projects that suddenly matter. Being seen as the person with fresh ideas can open doors that a steady record would not.

Daily life. Daily life is pictured as irregular: changing schedules, new hobbies, living lightly, trying different ways of doing ordinary things. Some people love the variety. Others find it hard to settle into a rhythm and need a few fixed anchors in the week.

Strengths

- Freedom to reinvent yourself
- Originality others notice
- Openness to new people and ideas
- Courage to break a rut
- Quick, inventive thinking

Challenges

- Restlessness and impatience
- Trouble settling into routines
- Seeming unpredictable to others
- Clashes with rules
- Projects started and dropped

URANUS DC LINE setting

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	Sudden meetings; partners who value freedom
Work	Innovative collaborators and project-based teams
Home and daily life	A busy, varied social life full of new faces
Watch out for	Mistaking excitement for fit; bonds that shift fast

Love. This is the center of the line. Sudden attractions, love at first conversation, long-distance or nontraditional arrangements and partners who value their freedom all belong to the Uranus DC picture.

Work. Partnerships at work follow the same pattern. Astrologers associate the line with collaborators who innovate, project-based teams, tech partners and clients who come from unexpected places.

Daily life. Social life is pictured as busy and varied: groups, communities, friends from many circles, invitations you did not expect. For people who enjoy new faces, that is a gift. For people who want quiet evenings, it can feel like too much.

Strengths

- Exciting, surprising meetings
- Partners who respect your freedom
- Friends who widen your world
- Honest, unconventional bonds
- Inventive collaborations

Challenges

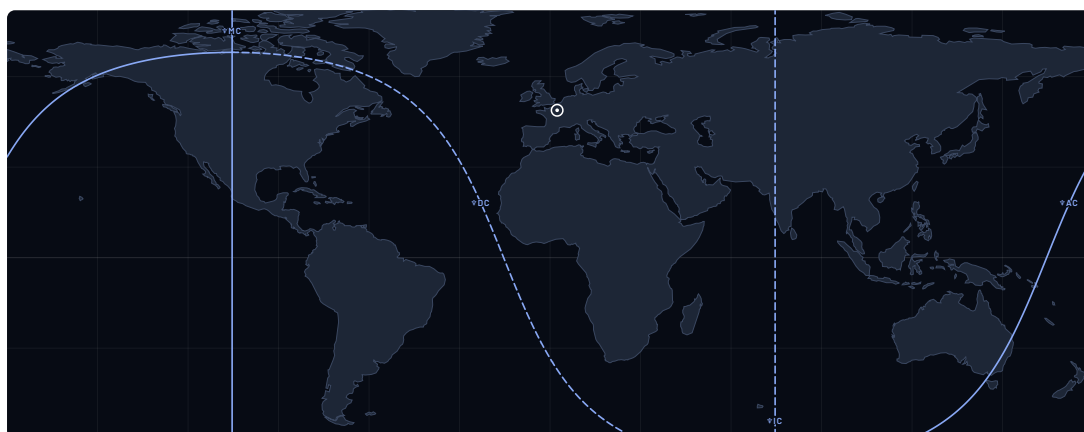

- Bonds that change quickly
- Partners who resist commitment
- Plans that shift at short notice
- Confusing spark with fit
- Little social quiet

YOUR NEPTUNE LINES

Your Neptune is in Capricorn. Shared by those born in roughly 1984 to 1998, Neptune in Capricorn is linked by astrologers with dissolving faith in old institutions and with idealism about building better structures. Ambition and spirituality may blend in interesting ways, such as wanting a career that means something. Personally it can suggest practical dreams. Look to the house Neptune occupies in your chart to see where you personally seek something greater than material success.

Every Neptune line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

NEPTUNE MC LINE overhead

Runs near Ciudad Juárez, Mexico (102 km)

Love Admirers who know your image; partners who share a dream

Work Art, film, photography, music, charities, caring work

Home and daily life Irregular creative hours; home as a studio

Watch out for Unclear direction; being misread or idealized

Love. Public image shapes love here. You may attract admirers who know your work or your image better than they know you, and partners who share a dream or a cause.

Work. Work is where this line speaks loudest. Astrologers associate it with art, film, photography, music, fashion, charities, caring professions, spiritual teaching and any work where imagination or compassion is the main skill.

Daily life. Daily life tends to follow the vocation: irregular creative hours, inspiration at odd times, home as a studio or a quiet place to recover from public life. A few fixed routines help the rest stay fluid, and so does a friend or colleague who will tell you honestly how your work is landing.

Strengths

- A creative or caring vocation
- An inspiring public image
- Fit with art, music and film
- Work tied to ideals
- Sensitivity to what people need

Challenges

- An unclear career direction
- Being misread or idealized
- Vague roles and expectations
- Drifting between projects
- Disappointment when ideals meet reality

NEPTUNE IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Lahore, Pakistan (25 km)

Love A shared home as a sanctuary; partners who want peace

Work Quiet work at home: a studio, writing, music, archives

Home and daily life Homes near water, soft light, a slower rhythm

Watch out for Bills and repairs slipping; blurred family boundaries

Love. A shared home becomes a sanctuary here: quiet evenings, care for each other, a gentle domestic life. Astrologers describe partners who want peace more than excitement.

Work. With private life in focus, work may happen at home or stay quiet: a studio, writing, music, research into family history. Public ambition is not the theme of this line. Astrologers suggest pairing it with a more public line if recognition matters to you.

Daily life. Home is the heart of this line. Homes near water, soft light, music, a garden to sit in, a slower rhythm: the picture is peaceful. Many people describe feeling deeply rested on this line.

Strengths

- A peaceful, restful home
- Space for art and reflection
- Closeness to water and nature
- Compassion within the family
- A spiritual sense of belonging

Challenges

- Practical matters slipping
- Blurred family boundaries
- Unclear family history
- Drifting rather than settling
- Escaping into the home

NEPTUNE AC LINE rising

Runs near Sydney, Australia (189 km)

Love Romantic and mysterious; idealization runs both ways

Work Art, music, film, writing, caring and spiritual work

Home and daily life Slower, intuitive days: music, daydreams, atmosphere

Watch out for Blurred boundaries; vague goals and drifting plans

Love. Near Neptune rising you may seem romantic and mysterious, and attract people who are drawn to an idea of you. Idealization can run both ways: you cast them as the dream, they cast you as theirs.

Work. Astrologers associate the line with art, music, photography, film, design, writing, caring roles and spiritual practice, anywhere imagination or empathy is the skill. An adaptable image can help in performing or teaching.

Daily life. Daily life is pictured as slower and more intuitive: more daydreaming, more music, more time noticing light and atmosphere. Some people describe feeling more themselves than ever. Others notice that time slips away and plans dissolve, and do best with a simple daily structure.

Strengths

- Imagination and creative flow
- Empathy and gentleness
- An appealing, artistic presence
- Openness to spiritual practice
- Adaptability

Challenges

- Blurred personal boundaries
- Being misread or idealized
- Absorbing other people's moods
- Vague goals and drifting plans
- Trouble saying no

NEPTUNE DC LINE setting

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love Deep romance and a sense of fate; few lines read as more romantic

Work Creative collaborators, charities, caring teams

Home and daily life Gentle social life through music, art or spiritual groups

Watch out for Rose-tinted glasses; rescuing or being rescued

Love. Romance is where this line is felt most. Astrologers describe deep romance, a sense of fate, artistic or spiritual partners and a feeling of having known someone before. Few lines are read as more romantic.

Work. Partnerships at work are read through the same lens: creative collaborators, charities, caring teams and clients who inspire you. Astrologers link the line with work that serves a cause bigger than the people involved.

Daily life. Social life is pictured as gentle: friends met through music, art or spiritual groups, evenings that are more about atmosphere than plans. Watch for giving more than you receive, and for friendships where roles are never quite clear.

Strengths

- Deep romance and tenderness
- Compassionate, forgiving bonds
- Creative and spiritual friendships
- A strong sense of connection
- Collaboration for a shared ideal

Challenges

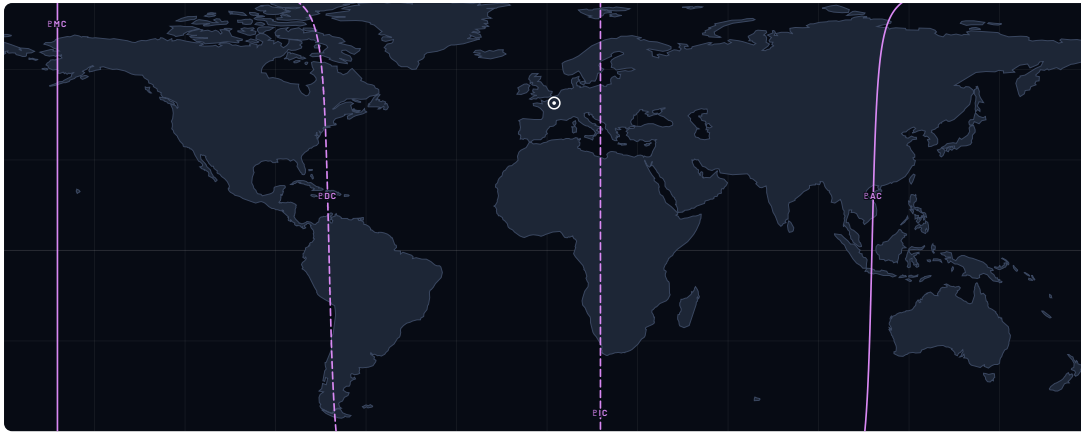

- Idealizing partners
- Rescuing or being rescued
- Unclear roles and agreements
- Giving too much
- Seeing what you hope to see

P YOUR PLUTO LINES

Your Pluto is in Scorpio. Pluto is the modern ruler of Scorpio and moved through it fast by its standards, for births in roughly 1983 to 1995. Astrologers describe this generation as unusually willing to talk openly about subjects older people kept hidden, including psychology, intimacy, power and loss. Emotional resilience and suspicion of easy answers are common themes. In your own chart, look to the house Pluto occupies to see the area of life where you are drawn to go deepest.

Every Pluto line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

P PLUTO MC LINE overhead

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love	Ambition can crowd a partner; status mixes with love
Work	Research, strategy, crisis and turnaround roles, leadership
Home and daily life	Weeks built around goals; work spills into everything
Watch out for	Power struggles, office politics, public scrutiny

Love. The MC is not a love angle, so astrologers read this line for relationships indirectly. Ambition can take center stage here and leave less room for a partner, or a relationship can become tied to status and public life. For love itself, the Pluto DC line and the Venus lines speak more directly.

Work. Work that fits the symbolism includes research, investigation, strategy, crisis and turnaround roles, and anything that deals with what other people prefer to avoid. Leadership fits too, as does work behind the scenes.

Daily life. Daily life near a Pluto MC line is often described as shaped by work: long stretches of focus, high standards, a week built around goals. Tradition suggests keeping a firm boundary between public and private, because this line leans toward letting work spill into everything.

Strengths

- Drive and staying power on long goals
- A reputation for depth and seriousness
- Courage to change direction when a path stops fitting
- Influence in groups and institutions

Challenges

- Power struggles with bosses or rivals
- Work crowding out rest and relationships
- Public scrutiny
- Ambition that turns all or nothing

P PLUTO IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Kinshasa, Democratic Republic of the Congo (265 km)

Love	Living together brings up family patterns
Work	Behind closed doors: research, archives, property, restoration
Home and daily life	Big renovations, clearing out, a private refuge
Watch out for	Old family conflicts resurfacing; secrecy or isolation

Love. For couples, this line is read as a test of the private side of a relationship. Living together near a Pluto IC line is said to bring up family patterns: how each of you was raised, what you repeat without noticing, what you want to do differently. Bonds that work through that honestly are described as close and steady; bonds that avoid it may feel strained.

Work. The IC sits opposite the MC, so public career is not the focus. Astrologers associate this line with work done from home or behind closed doors: research, writing, archives, family businesses, property and restoration. You may care less about how your career looks from outside and more about whether it supports the life you are building in private.

Daily life. Home is the main stage. Astrologers link the Pluto IC line with big renovations, clearing out years of belongings, and homes that feel like a refuge from the world. Privacy matters more than usual.

Strengths

- A home that feels deeply your own
- Insight into family patterns
- Privacy and a rich inner life
- The resolve to rebuild from the ground up

Challenges

- Old family conflicts coming back
- Secrecy or isolation
- Feeling unsettled while the change is under way
- Strong feelings about control at home

PLUTO AC LINE rising

Runs near Chongqing, China (186 km)

Love Magnetism; quick, strong attraction that wants depth

Work Taken seriously: research, investigation, negotiation

Home and daily life Purposeful routines: training, decluttering, chosen company

Watch out for Seeming guarded or intimidating; all-or-nothing moods

Love. Because this line is about how you come across, in love it is usually described as magnetism. Attraction can be quick and strong, and the people drawn to you may want depth rather than light flirtation.

Work. This is not the career line (that is the Pluto MC line), but how you show up still colors your working life. Tradition pictures you as someone people take seriously here: strategic, persistent and willing to dig. Research, investigation, negotiation and roles that ask you to stay calm under pressure fit the symbolism. The risk is seeming intimidating, so a little openness goes a long way.

Daily life. Day to day, astrologers associate this line with routines that serve a purpose: training, a strict schedule, decluttering, cutting out what no longer fits, and choosing your company with care.

Strengths

- A strong sense of presence and self-possession
- Focus and staying power on personal goals
- Willingness to let go of an old image
- Honesty with yourself about what you want

Challenges

- Coming across as guarded, intense or hard to read
- All-or-nothing moods
- Wanting control in situations that need give and take
- Feeling exposed while you change

PLUTO DC LINE setting

Runs near New York City, United States (45 km)

Love	Strong attraction and being deeply seen; trust tested
Work	High-stakes collaborations; powerful allies and rivals
Home and daily life	Sharing space reveals habits and unspoken rules
Watch out for	Control and jealousy, on either side

Love. This is the Pluto line most people look up for love. Astrologers describe strong attraction, a feeling of being deeply seen, and connections that seem hard to walk away from.

Work. The Descendant also covers business partners, clients and the person across the negotiating table. Astrologers link this line with high-stakes collaborations: consulting, joint ventures, negotiation and work where you deal with strong personalities. You may attract powerful allies here, and powerful competition.

Daily life. At home the Pluto DC theme often shows up in who you share space with. Living with a partner or housemates here is read as revealing: habits, boundaries and unspoken rules come into the open.

Strengths

- Deep, honest relationships that do not stay shallow
- Partners and allies who push you to grow
- Courage to talk about trust and hard subjects
- Sharp instincts in negotiation

Challenges

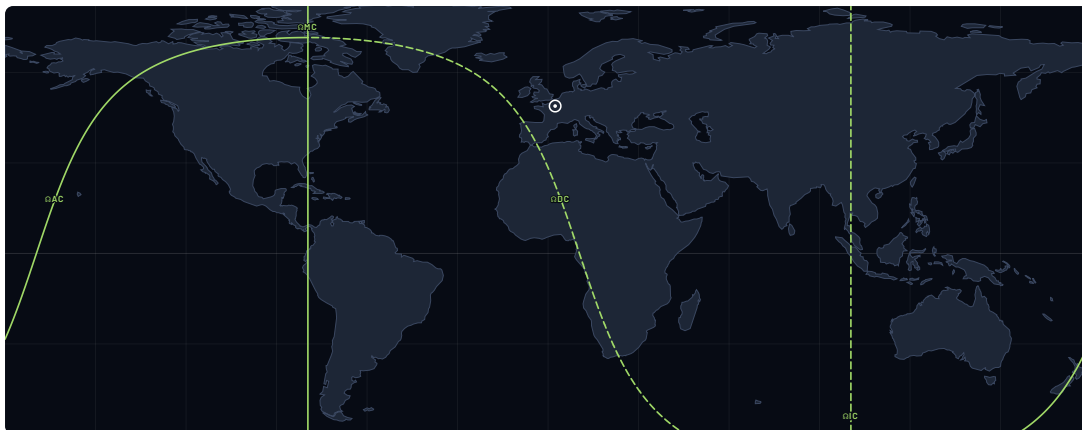

- Jealousy or control, yours or someone else's
- Relationships that move too fast
- Rivals as well as admirers
- Trouble keeping anything light

YOUR NORTH NODE LINES

Your North Node is in Aquarius. With the North Node in Aquarius and the South Node in Leo, personal expression and the need for recognition may come easily. Astrologers point your growth toward the group: friendship, community, shared causes and innovative ideas. Working toward something bigger than yourself, valuing others' contributions and embracing your own quirks without needing applause help you evolve. Your creativity serves best when it serves many, as in a band, a club, a campaign or an open project.

The North Node is not a planet but the point where the Moon's path crosses the Sun's: astrologers read it as direction and growth. Every North Node line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

Ω NORTH NODE MC LINE overhead

Runs near Lima, Peru (281 km)

Love	A partner who supports your direction; shared goals
Work	Turning points, mentors, work that feels like a vocation
Home and daily life	Home as a comforting base, sometimes too comforting
Watch out for	Mistaking a strong feeling for certainty

Love. The Midheaven is a public angle, so love is read indirectly. Tradition pictures a partner who supports your direction, or a relationship that grows around shared goals. With the South Node on the IC, a tension can show between your ambitions and family expectations, and naming it early helps.

Work. Astrologers associate this line with turning points in your working life: a field you discover, a mentor who changes your direction, a role that feels more like a vocation than a job. It favors the unfamiliar path over the one you already know how to walk.

Daily life. Home near this line is described as comforting and familiar, sometimes too comforting. Astrologers suggest treating it as a base rather than a hiding place: rest there, then go out and do the thing you came for.

Strengths

- A clearer sense of vocation
- Mentors and openings in public life
- Motivation to grow beyond familiar roles
- Work that feels meaningful, not only paid

Challenges

- Pressure to live up to a calling
- The pull to stay home and play it safe
- Tension between career and family expectations
- Mistaking a strong feeling for certainty

Ω NORTH NODE IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Kunming, China (234 km)

Love	Relationships centered on home; closeness grows slowly
Work	Work that supports home life: remote work, a craft
Home and daily life	Settling down, unpacking, a feeling of arriving
Watch out for	Slow, inward growth; falling back on work out of habit

Love. Tradition pictures relationships here centered on home: a partner who feels like family, building a household together, and closeness that grows over time rather than in a rush. With the South Node on the MC, one caution is letting work and status define the relationship instead of daily life together.

Work. Your known skills and reputation tend to work well near this line, since they are the South Node's familiar ground. Astrologers read the growth as lying elsewhere, so work that supports home life, such as remote work, a family business or a craft done at home, fits the symbolism better than chasing the next title.

Daily life. This is where the line is felt most. Astrologers link it with settling down, buying furniture you plan to keep, planting a garden, or finally unpacking the boxes. Some people describe a feeling of arriving, as if a place makes sense of them.

Strengths

- A home that feels like a real base
- A deeper connection with family history
- A calmer, more private sense of purpose
- Career skills that still come easily

Challenges

- Slow, inward growth that is hard to see
- Falling back on work out of habit
- Family stories that take time to understand
- Feeling restless before you settle

NORTH NODE AC LINE rising

Runs near Auckland, New Zealand (95 km)

Love Familiar-feeling people; bring more of yourself in

Work Noticed for your own initiative; being a beginner

Home and daily life Fresh routines, a new look, classes where you know nobody

Watch out for Falling back into old roles with partners

Love. With the South Node on the Descendant, people you meet here may feel familiar very quickly, as if you have known them for years. That can be lovely. Astrologers add one caution: familiar can also mean repeating old patterns, such as choosing the same kind of partner again or letting someone else steer.

Work. This is a personal line rather than a career line, but presence shapes work. Tradition pictures you noticed here for your own initiative: a project you lead, a skill you pick up from scratch, a first attempt at something you have long postponed. Being a beginner is part of the symbolism, and astrologers read it as a strength.

Daily life. Daily life near this line is described as fresh: new routines, a new look, the small courage of eating alone in a new café or joining a class where you know nobody.

Strengths

- A clearer sense of your own direction
- Courage to start things on your own
- A fresh image that fits who you are becoming
- Encounters that spur you forward

Challenges

- Feeling like a beginner, which is not always comfortable
- Falling back into old roles with partners
- Tension between independence and closeness
- Impatience while the new habits form

NORTH NODE DC LINE setting

Runs near Kano, Nigeria (225 km)

Love Meetings that feel significant; learning give and take

Work Growth through co-founders, mentors and clients

Home and daily life Shared living: housemates, a partner, close community

Watch out for Expecting a meeting to solve everything

Love. Of the four node lines, this is the one most often linked with love. Astrologers describe meetings that feel significant, partners who seem connected to the next chapter of your life, and relationships that teach you something about give and take.

Work. The Descendant also covers business partners, clients, agents and collaborators. This line is associated with work that grows through other people: a co-founder, a mentor, a team that brings out your best, a client who opens a door. Tradition suggests saying yes to collaboration here even when going it alone feels more natural.

Daily life. Day to day, the theme shows up in shared living: housemates, a partner, a close community or a neighborhood where people know each other. With the South Node rising, you may notice a pull back toward solitude and old routines; astrologers read the balance between the two as the point of the line.

Strengths

- Meetings that feel timely and significant
- Collaborators who help you grow
- Learning real give and take
- A wider circle of people around you

Challenges

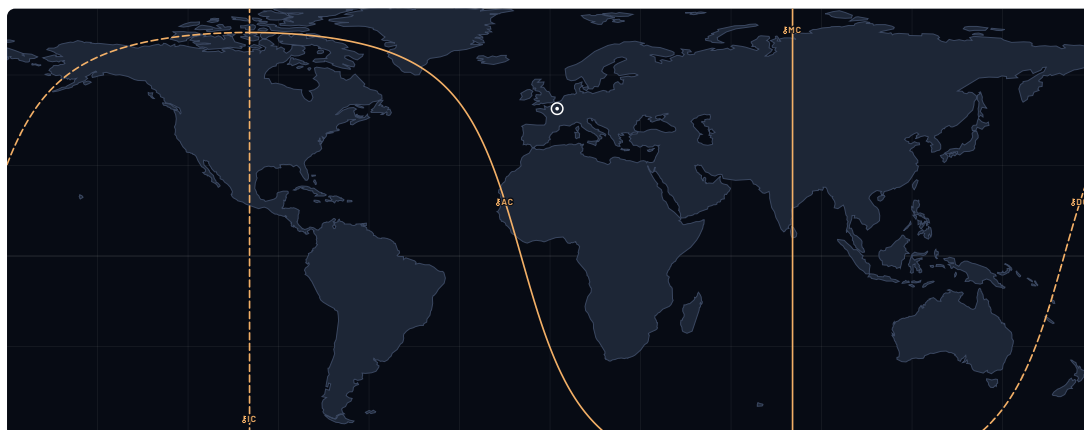

- Expecting a meeting to solve everything
- Retreating into old self-reliance
- Losing your own voice in a partnership
- Feeling dependent while you learn to share

YOUR CHIRON LINES

Your Chiron is in Cancer. Chiron in Cancer touches the oldest questions: was I looked after, and where do I belong? Many people with this placement recall a home that was loving but stretched thin, or a role as the small caretaker of adults. Astrologers see the reward in what you learned: you know how to make a kitchen, a classroom or a group chat feel safe. The quieter work is parenting yourself, with regular meals, rest and kindness, before tending everyone else.

Chiron is a small body between Saturn and Uranus: astrologers read it as old wounds and the wisdom that grows from them. Every Chiron line on your map carries this tone: the line shows where it is strongest.

♄ CHIRON MC LINE overhead

Runs near Hyderabad, India (206 km)

Love	A partner who respects your work; home off duty
Work	Teaching, training, mentoring, advocacy, writing
Home and daily life	Empathy-heavy work days; rest needs protecting
Watch out for	Self-doubt and giving more than you can sustain

Love. The MC is a public angle, so astrologers read love here indirectly. A partner who respects your work matters, and so does keeping your private life from becoming another place where you look after everyone. For partnership itself, the Chiron DC line and the Venus lines speak more directly.

Work. Work that fits the symbolism includes teaching, training, mentoring, advocacy, writing, and any role where you guide people through something you know from the inside. Astrologers also link this line with careers that grow out of a setback, when something difficult becomes the reason you chose a field.

Daily life. Daily life near this line is often shaped by work that asks a lot of your empathy. Tradition suggests making home a place where you are not the mentor: somewhere to rest, be looked after, or simply be off duty.

Strengths

- A reputation for wisdom and care
- Work that uses what you have lived through
- Students and colleagues who trust you
- A clear sense of why your work matters

Challenges

- Self-doubt about your qualifications
- Feeling exposed when your story is public
- Giving more than you can sustain
- Tying your worth too closely to helping

♄ CHIRON IC LINE underfoot

Runs near Mexico City, Mexico (50 km)

Love	Family patterns in the relationship; kind talks help
Work	Quiet work from home: writing, local history, crafts
Home and daily life	A simple refuge; sorting photos, letters and stories
Watch out for	Dwelling on the past; withdrawing from people

Love. For couples, the line is read as bringing family patterns into the relationship: how each of you learned to care, argue and make up. Talking about those patterns kindly is said to bring partners closer. A partner who respects your need for quiet time fits this line well.

Work. The IC sits opposite the MC, so public career is not the focus. Astrologers associate this line with work done quietly or from home: writing, research into family or local history, crafts, or caring work done close to home. You may care more about how work fits your private life than how it looks from outside.

Daily life. Home is the main setting. Tradition links this line with a home that works as a refuge: quiet, simple, somewhere you can be unguarded. Sorting through family photos, letters or stories fits the symbolism.

Strengths

- A home that feels safe and unguarded
- New understanding of family history
- Room to reflect at your own pace
- Gentleness toward yourself and relatives

Challenges

- Old family memories resurfacing
- Dwelling on the past
- Withdrawing from people
- Feeling unsettled before you feel at home

 CHIRON AC LINE rising

Runs near Conakry, Guinea (140 km)

Love Being seen early, tender spots included; honest starts

Work Empathy roles: teaching, mentoring, customer care

Home and daily life More aware days; gentle routines, time outdoors

Watch out for Feeling exposed; taking on other people's troubles

Love. Because this line is about how you come across, in love it is read as being seen early, tender spots included. That can make relationships here unusually honest from the start.

Work. This is a personal line, but presence shapes how others respond to you at work. Tradition pictures you trusted with sensitive conversations here, and suited to roles where empathy shows: teaching, training, mentoring, customer care, or writing about lived experience. For the line about public role and career, read the Chiron MC line.

Daily life. Daily life near your Chiron AC line is described as more aware: you may notice your own patterns, sore points and limits sooner. Gentle routines, time outdoors and people who do not ask you to perform fit the symbolism well.

Strengths

- Empathy that others can feel
- Honesty about your own experience
- Being approachable and easy to confide in
- Growing more at ease with what feels tender

Challenges

- Feeling exposed or self-conscious
- Taking on other people's troubles
- Old sore points coming to the surface
- Hiding instead of showing up

 CHIRON DC LINE setting

Runs mostly over ocean or thinly settled land

Love Tender, honest bonds; sharing your history early

Work One-to-one trust: mentoring, tutoring, coaching, advising

Home and daily life Learning each other's sensitivities at home

Watch out for Rescuing or being rescued; care that flows one way

Love. This is the Chiron line most people look up for love. Tradition reads relationships here as tender and real: you may share more of your history earlier, and meet people with stories like yours.

Work. The Descendant also covers clients, students and working partners. This line is associated with one-to-one work where trust matters: mentoring, tutoring, coaching, advising, or partnerships with someone whose experience complements yours. You may be the person colleagues come to with something delicate.

Daily life. At home, the theme shows up in who you live with. Sharing space here is read as a way of learning each other's sensitivities: what someone needs when they are tired, what you need when you are. Small kindnesses are said to matter more than usual.

Strengths

- Honest, tender relationships
- Mentors and students who teach you something
- Patience and kindness that grow over time
- Meeting people who understand your story

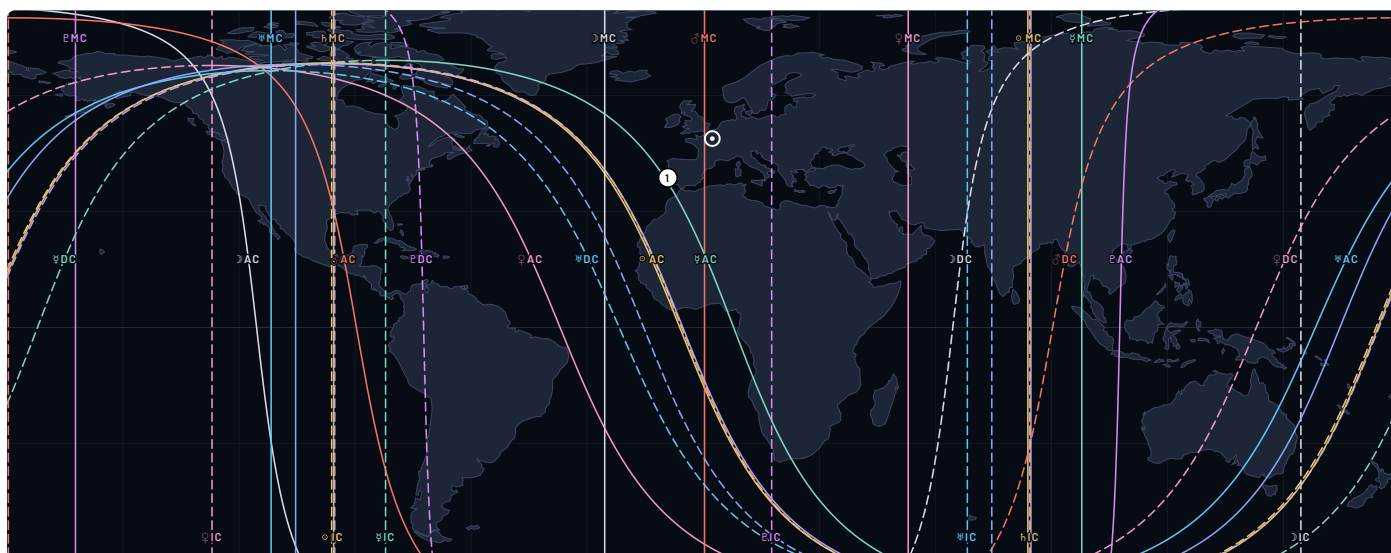

Challenges

- Old hurts stirred up by closeness
- Rescuing or being rescued
- Relationships tilted toward one person's needs
- Taking others' reactions too personally

YOUR CITY 1 OF 5

LISBON, PORTUGAL

Best for luck and travel (Mercury AC line, 65 km).

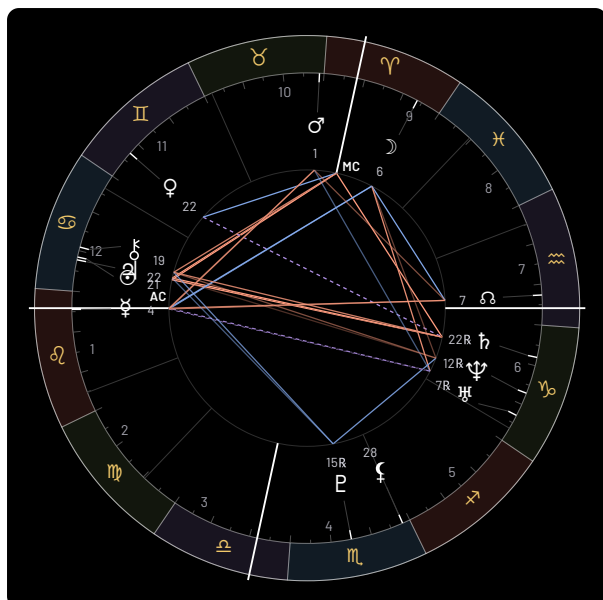

THE LINES CLOSEST TO LISBON

☿ Mercury AC line · 65 km (40 mi)

Where Mercury was rising runs your Mercury AC line. Tradition pictures you quicker, chattier and more restless here, noticing everything and wanting to name it.

This line is a favorite for short, purposeful stays: a language course, a workshop, a summer school, a semester abroad. Astrologers say a visit gives you the mental spark with little of the noise.

YOUR CHART IN LISBON

Rising sign 17° Leo at birth → 4° Leo

Midheaven 3° Taurus → 21° Aries

Houses that change: Mercury 12th → 1st, Mars 9th → 10th, Uranus 5th → 6th, Neptune 5th → 6th.

With Leo rising, you often make a warm, vivid entrance even when you do not mean to. People may notice your hair, your posture or the way you laugh.

Mercury in your first house

Mercury in the first house puts your mind on display. Astrologers describe a quick, alert manner, expressive hands or face, and a tendency to think out loud. People may see you first as clever, funny or curious. You often introduce yourself through conversation. The challenge can be nervous energy, so finding outlets for constant mental motion keeps you from feeling scattered.

Mars in your tenth house

Mars in the tenth house drives ambition. Astrologers link it with a strong wish to achieve, take charge and make a visible mark, in whatever field you choose, as a general theme. You may thrive with clear goals and some competition. Clashes with authority are possible on the way up. Patience and strategy turn raw drive into lasting standing.

Uranus in your sixth house

Uranus in the sixth house dislikes rigid routine. Astrologers describe a need for variety and freedom in daily work, perhaps flexible hours, technology-based jobs or unusual workplaces. You may find innovative ways to improve how things are done. Wellbeing habits benefit from variety too. Some structure still helps, as long as it leaves room to experiment.

THE LINES CLOSEST TO NEW YORK

♇ Pluto DC line · 45 km (28 mi)

Where Pluto was setting runs the Pluto DC line. Relationships here are read as all-consuming: deep bonds, strong attractions, questions of control and trust, and partnerships that change both people.

On a visit, tradition reads this line as a place for meetings that leave a mark: a conversation you remember for years, a collaboration that begins on a trip, an encounter that makes you rethink what you want from people. Living here asks more.

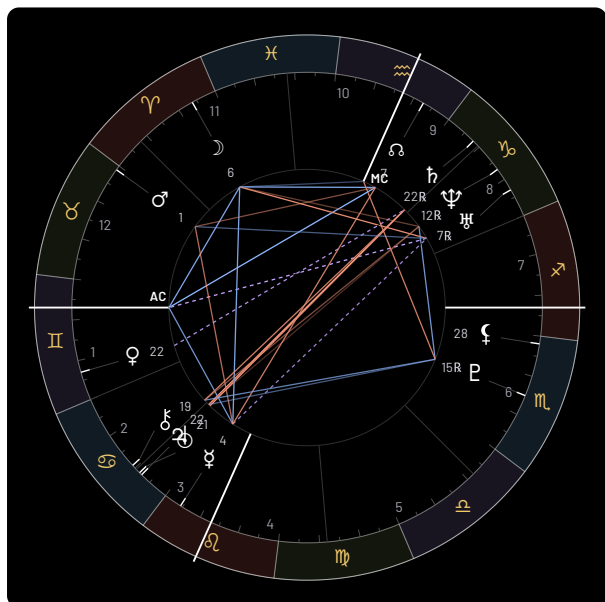

☿ Mercury IC line · 684 km (425 mi)

Along the Mercury IC line, Mercury lay underfoot. The theme turns inward and homeward: study at the kitchen table, long talks with relatives, a busy household, and a mind that keeps returning to the past to understand it.

A visit near your Mercury IC line suits a family history trip: archives, old addresses, relatives with stories to tell, or learning the family language. It also suits a quiet study retreat.

With Gemini rising, people often meet you as quick, chatty and curious. You may ask questions before you share opinions, and your expression tends to move with your thoughts.

understand yourself best by explaining something to someone else.

Moon in your eleventh house

With the Moon in the eleventh house, friends can feel like family. Tradition reads a need to belong to a circle, a team or a community that shares your hopes. You may offer emotional support to groups and find comfort in collective projects. Choosing friendships that genuinely nourish you, rather than simply keeping busy socially, is the main lesson of this placement.

Mercury in your third house

Mercury is at home in the third house, its natural territory. Astrologers read a lively, versatile mind that loves reading, writing, local news and conversations with everyone from siblings to shopkeepers. You may juggle several interests at once and learn fastest by asking questions. Focus can be the growth edge, as your curiosity rarely runs out of new directions to explore.

MEXICO CITY, MEXICO

Best for home (Sun IC line, 323 km). Handle with care: Saturn MC line, 375 km.

THE LINES CLOSEST TO MEXICO CITY

Sun IC line · 323 km (201 mi)

On the Sun IC line the Sun sat beneath your feet at birth. Astrologers associate it with roots, home and a private sense of self: a setting to build a base, reflect on family stories and feel quietly central rather than on stage.

A visit near your Sun IC line suits slow travel: a retreat, a long stay in a rented home, or a trip to trace family history.

Saturn MC line · 375 km (233 mi)

Your Saturn MC line marks where Saturn culminated. The tradition sees it as a demanding place for public life: responsibility, slow and steady effort, authority figures and tests of commitment, with respect earned over time rather than given.

Business trips, interviews and conferences near your Saturn MC line are often read as occasions where you are taken seriously, even if the mood is formal. A visit can also be a good moment to review your direction and set long-range goals.

Jupiter IC line · 405 km (252 mi)

Your Jupiter IC line runs where Jupiter lay underfoot. The theme is a generous home base: a roomy house, a welcoming family, faith or philosophy practiced privately, and a sense that your roots can spread wider here.

IC lines are read mainly through living. A visit may simply feel welcoming, and astrologers sometimes suggest a trip to a family homeland on this line as a way to reconnect with roots.

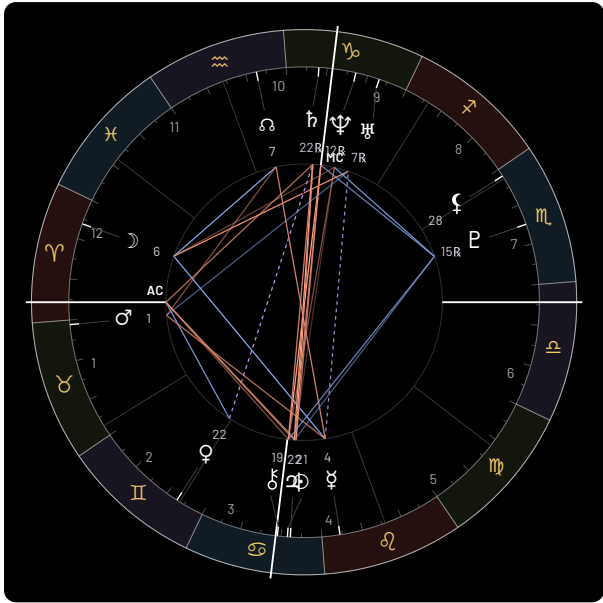

Mars AC line · 609 km (379 mi)

Where Mars was rising runs your Mars AC line. The symbolism is bold and active: courage, directness, sport and a quick temper.

This is one of the lines astrologers most often suggest for a purposeful trip: a race, a climb, a training camp, a week to launch something. A defined goal and an end date suit Mars.

THE LINES CLOSEST TO SYDNEY

♆ Neptune AC line · 189 km (118 mi)

Where Neptune was rising runs your Neptune AC line. The symbolism is soft focus: you may seem gentle, intuitive or elusive to others, and feel more imaginative and impressionable yourself.

A visit near your Neptune AC line is often read as a creative or reflective break: an art trip, a retreat, a week of writing. Short stays tend to be described as inspiring and gentle.

☾ Moon IC line · 306 km (190 mi)

Under the Moon IC line, the Moon was at the lowest point of the sky. It is read as one of the most domestic lines on the map: nesting, family, memory and the wish to put down roots and feel emotionally at home.

A visit near your Moon IC line suits a roots trip, a family reunion or a long rest. Many people describe feeling at home within days.

☼ Sun DC line · 587 km (365 mi)

Where the Sun was setting at your birth runs the Sun DC line. Astrologers tie it to partners and close one-to-one bonds: other people mirror your purpose back to you here, and shared projects come into focus.

A visit near your Sun DC line suits trips about people: traveling with a partner or a friend, meeting collaborators, attending an event where you hope to connect.

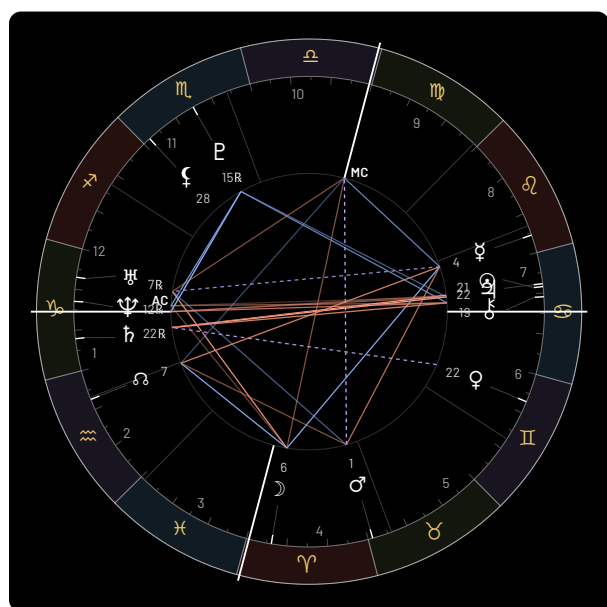

♄ Saturn AC line · 637 km (396 mi)

Where Saturn was rising runs the Saturn AC line. The symbolism is sober: you may come across as reserved or older than your years, with discipline, patience and limits in the foreground.

A visit near your Saturn AC line is often read as a retreat for focus: a writing week, a training course, a few days to make a plan you keep putting off.

Capricorn rising usually gives a composed, serious first impression, sometimes older than your years when you are young. People sense competence and assume you have a plan.

Sun in your seventh house

With the Sun in the seventh house, identity is shaped in partnership. Astrologers read a person who discovers themselves through close relationships, collaboration and one-to-one encounters. You may be drawn to strong, confident partners or roles where you work as a pair. The task is to share the spotlight without handing it over entirely, keeping your own centre while you meet someone halfway.

Moon in your fourth house

The fourth house is the Moon's traditional home, so this placement is considered strong and natural. Astrologers link it with deep family feeling, a love of home and a long emotional memory. Your sense of wellbeing may depend heavily on your living space and the people in it. Creating a nurturing nest, wherever you are, is often central to your contentment.

Mercury in your seventh house

With Mercury in the seventh house, ideas grow through dialogue. Astrologers describe someone who thinks best in conversation with a partner and who values a quick, communicative companion. Negotiation, mediation and advising may come naturally. You may sometimes hand your opinions to others for approval. Talking things through is a strength, as long as you also trust your own conclusions.

LINE CROSSINGS

WHERE TWO OF YOUR LINES CROSS

Your map has 270 points where two planet lines cross. At a crossing both planets were on an angle of the sky at the same moment, so astrologers read their themes as meeting there; the whole band of latitude carries the pair more softly (a paran). These are the crossings closest to a city of over 250,000 people.

1 Houston, United States Mars AC × Jupiter IC, 64 km

Mars AC with Jupiter is read as bold confidence with a risk of overreach.

2 Dallas, United States Sun IC × Mars AC, 78 km

Both planets were on an angle at the same moment here, so astrologers read their themes as meeting: Sun themes through home, family and roots, and Mars themes through how you come across and feel in yourself.

3 Quetta, Pakistan Moon DC × Uranus IC, 143 km

A Moon line near your Uranus IC line is read as emotional changes at home.

4 Windhoek, Namibia Mercury AC × Pluto IC, 179 km

Both planets were on an angle at the same moment here, so astrologers read their themes as meeting: Mercury themes through how you come across and feel in yourself, and Pluto themes through home, family and roots.

5 Omsk, Russia Moon DC × Neptune IC, 190 km

A Moon line near your Neptune IC line is read as a deeply emotional, nostalgic home.

6 Austin, United States Mars AC × Saturn MC, 210 km

With Saturn as discipline that can feel like frustration.

YOUR NEXT BIRTHDAY

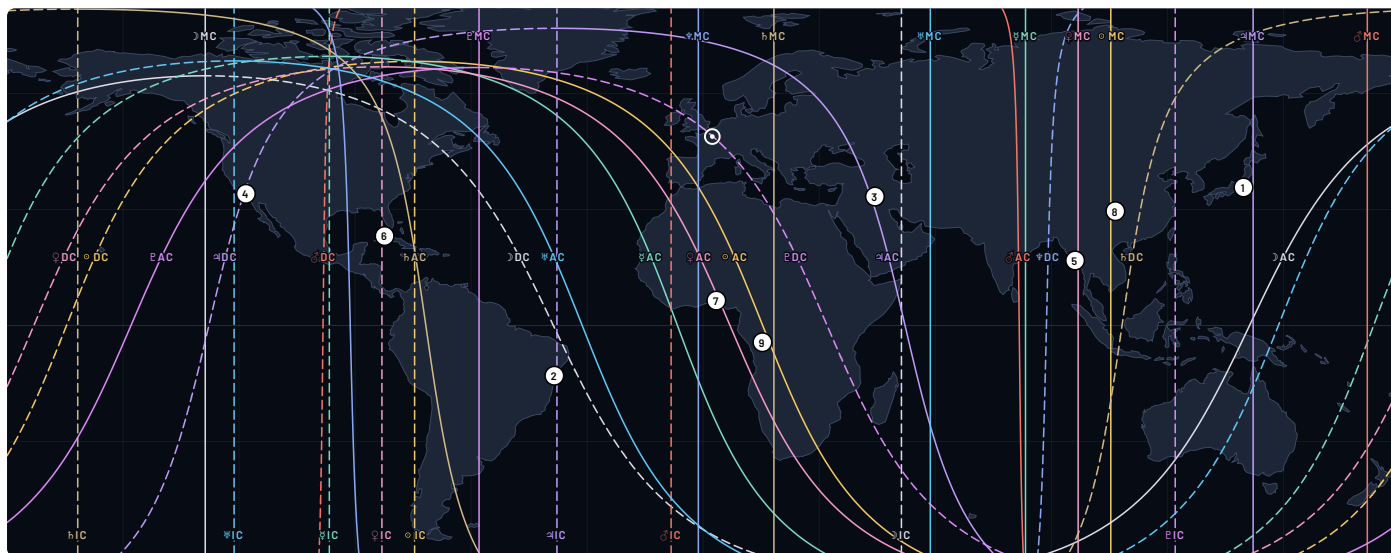

YOUR 2027 SOLAR RETURN

On Wednesday, July 14, 2027 the Sun comes back to 21° Cancer, its place at your birth. Astrologers read the chart of that moment as the tone of the twelve months that follow. Drawn here for your birth place; it changes with the place where you spend the birthday.

- Rising sign of the year: Leo. Keywords: creativity, warmth, pride, generosity.
- Sun in the 12th house: Solitude, the unconscious and retreat, read as the main focus of the year.
- Moon in Sagittarius, 5th house: Creativity, romance and play.

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAP

The lines of your solar return moment. Spend the birthday on a planet's line and that planet sits on an angle of the return chart, which astrologers read as one of the loudest voices of the year. These cities sit near the solar return lines of Jupiter and Venus, and the Sun's MC and AC lines:

HOW THIS REPORT WAS MADE

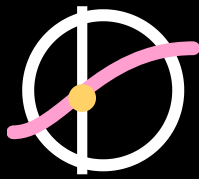

METHOD AND HONEST LIMITS

Your birth time was converted to Universal Time with the time zone rules of your birth place. The positions of the Sun, Moon and planets come from published astronomical theory (VSOP87 and Meeus), the same engine as the site, checked against NASA JPL Horizons to about a thousandth of a degree. Lines are geocentric and drawn in the sky, with each planet's own latitude, at the true horizon without refraction.

Birth time matters. The Earth turns 1 degree every 4 minutes, so a birth time 4 minutes off moves every line about 110 km at the equator. If your time is approximate, read the distances in this report loosely.

What a line can and cannot tell you. Astrocartography is a symbolic tradition, not a science. No study shows that places act on people through planetary lines. Many people find it a useful way to think about where they live, travel or work. Nothing here predicts events or replaces professional, financial, legal or medical advice.

Texts. The readings are written by Astrology Lines from the astrological tradition; they are the same texts as on the site's line pages, chosen and combined for your chart.
